Towns see most snow in the state

MARY FOLEY & ALEC JUNG
Staff Reporters
The first snowfall of the season was a whopper. With reports of over 12 inches along the Illinois-Wisconsin border, residents didn't just get a taste of winter, they got a mouthful.
Snow started falling at around 3 p.m., Tuesday, and by midnight it was a driving nightmare. Jim Semmerling's Lake Villa Township road crew and Mark Ring's Antioch Township road crew were out there doing their best.
"With heavy wet snow it is slow going," said Antioch Township Road Commissioner Mark Ring. "We do our best. We have 80 miles of road and six guys."

County board honors Fields

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter
The Lake County Board passed a resolution honoring the "outstanding service" of former board member Jim Fields. Fields, who served as chairman of the board for many years, was a county board member for 14 years and is also Antioch Township Supervisor.
"I've been with him for 18 years," said Dick Harland, Antioch Township clerk. Harland attributes Fields' success as a politician to his "bright, upbeat, and outgoing" personality. "I think one of his strong points is his ability to work with people," said Harland.
Born in 1929 in Waukegan, Fields is a lifelong resident of Antioch. After graduation from high school, Fields attended college before joining the U.S. Air Force. Serving a three-year hitch, Fields left the service as a sergeant in the medical corps.

Fields worked for two years in the banking industry and then a brief period as a car salesman. After that, Fields began his life-long dedication to public service.
The first position Fields held was a member of the Antioch Village Building and Zoning Board. From there, he was elected to Antioch Township Supervisor, a position he has held for 16 years. Two years after taking the supervisor's position, he was elected to the Lake County Board (Dist. 1).

Antioch's way of saying 'tanks' to veterans

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter
If you thought you saw a military tank heading down the road Thursday, don't worry. The veteran's of Antioch have a new memorial — an M551 Sheridan tank. The tank was placed onto the veteran's memorial site in downtown Antioch.
The tank, which came from Anniston Army Depot in Anniston, Ala., weighed in at 34,899 pounds. A crane was needed to lift it onto the cement platform on Toft Street.
As veterans and the curious looked on, the heavy tank was lifted into the air, which is probably the only place this tank can't go. Surprisingly, the tank, when fully dressed, is amphibious, allowing it to travel on land and in the water.
The tank will replace the cannon, which had been there since the early '50s. The cannon will be taken to the Kenosha Military Museum where it will be refurbished.
"The gun will be restored and will be used as a mobile memorial for parades," said Todd Maplethorpe.
Interestingly enough, that cannon replaced the original cannon, which was donated in late 1935. In 1943, the original cannon was sent for salvage during World War II.
The tank is on display on the old cement pad that used to be the old water tower base. "The base was remodeled by Bill Theiman," said Todd Maplethorpe. Maplethorpe said Theiman had left money in his will to repair the cement pad memorial site.
The tank had been stored at the Kenosha Military Museum for three weeks, where local veterans volunteered their time to spruce it up. "The VFW guys repainted it," said Mark Sondag, owner of the museum.
The nearly 10-foot tall tank, is roughly 9 feet wide and 20 feet long. When operational it held four crew members, however, the hatch has now been welded shut to keep curious children out.
Plans for a formal dedication ceremony are underway. It is expected to take place on Memorial Day.

Tentative date set for whistle meeting

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

A tentative date has been set for a public meeting regarding the necessity of train whistle blowing by the engineers of Wisconsin Central freight trains. Last month, residents presented a request to the Antioch Village Board to stop, what they term, excessive horn blowing.

Mayor Marilyn Shineflug announced Monday she had been in contact with an official of Wisconsin Central who will be able to attend the tentatively scheduled meeting on Jan. 16 at 7 p.m. However, village officials and residents had hoped a representative from the Illinois Commerce Commission, the railroad regulating body, would be able to attend as well.

"I spoke with Mr. Humphreys of the ICC," said Village Attorney Ken Clark. "He will be unable to attend."

Part of the problem, said Clark, was the fact Jan. 16 is a state holiday. Apparently, there is a problem with the state compensating Humphreys for his mileage, food, and overnight lodging.

"I think the residents want to meet specifically with the ICC and the railroad," said Trustee Marvin Oldenburger. Trustees

Donald Amundsen and Wayne Foresta agreed.

The Jan. 16th meeting would be held before the regularly scheduled board meeting at 7:30. Foresta suggested more time may be needed. "Wouldn't it make more sense to have a special meeting," asked Foresta.

However, Amundsen cautioned the board it would "serve no purpose to set up" an argument between residents and railroad officials. The purpose of the meeting is to discuss the legal ramifications, instead. Clark told the board about new federal legislation which essentially "usurps" the authority of the state regarding railroads.

In the end, it was decided to have Clark re-contact the ICC in an effort to accommodate a representative. Village Board members indicated their willingness to foot the bill for any costs arising from a trip from Springfield to Antioch. If no accommodation can be made, the Jan. 16th date will be certain.

In addition to Antioch residents, officials from Lake Villa and Grayslake have indicated an interest in attending the meeting. These communities have also encountered complaints from residents regarding loud train whistles.

Judy Martini takes oath of office

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

Judy Martini, the newly elected County Board member for District 1, took the oath of office Monday during the swearing-in ceremony in Waukegan. It took a great deal of work on the part of Martini and her campaign staff to get her to this point.

"I was relieved it was over," said Martini. "It was a long battle — four years."

Martini was defeated by Antioch Township Supervisor Jim Fields in both an earlier county board race as well as a battle for township supervisor. In November, Martini defeated Democratic candidate Grant Farrell by a margin of 3,014 votes.

When asked what her plans are for District 1, she said she plans to meet with various groups including United Homeowners Association of Unincorporated Antioch, a collective group of subdivisions and homeowners.

Martini also plans to investigate the need for road repair, improved drainage for some areas, and even sewers. "I know there is some area interest in sewers," she said.

She admits she first must spend time identifying the needs of the community. "I will have to spend a couple of months in observation," Martini said.

New Antioch park to be dedicated

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

The newest park in Antioch, formerly referred to as Heron Harbor Park, officially has a new name. The Antioch Village Board has approved the name Pederson Park, in honor of the Pederson family.

The park, located on Route 173 across the street from Jewel Food Store, will be dedicated sometime between Christmas and New Years. According to Mayor Marilyn Shineflug, that period of time would allow members of the Pederson family to attend the dedication.

Initially, the park was developed with the intention of using the area for soccer fields. It was also to have a pavilion as well as portable restroom facilities.

However, after the park board discussed the matter, the board decided to take advantage of the beautiful natural setting. Instead of soccer, the board hopes the park will be used for scouting programs, wildlife programs, and fishing derbies.

While the channel in the park does not open up onto the Chain O'Lakes, it can offer Antioch residents and visitors a place to spend an afternoon fishing. Also, the setting provides an extremely attractive place to hold a picnic. The park would also provide a wonderful place for students to learn about the wetlands that surround Antioch.

The park is open every day from dawn until dusk, but at this time, the portable restrooms have not been installed. Restroom facilities are planned for the spring.

It is also not known if a pavilion can even be installed in the park. One of the problems is that the park is located on the wetlands and it does not require much digging to hit water. A floating pavilion is being considered.

Sewer meeting planned

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

An informational meeting regarding the proposed sewer feasibility study will be held on Tuesday, Dec. 13, at 7:30 p.m. Sponsored by United Homeowners Association of Unincorporated Antioch (UHAUA), the meeting will be held at Felters clubhouse.

At the meeting, copies of a letter of intent will be distributed. The letters need to be signed and sent to the Lake County Public Works.

Last month, representatives from homeowner associations and subdivisions gathered to discuss a sewer feasibility study for Antioch Township. The study, which would not commit residents, would provide information about potential costs, problem areas, and even the feasibility of sewers in the township.

During the earlier meeting, the group decided to obtain a letter from the Lake County Public Works explaining the feasibility study, and what, if any, obligations residents may face. UHAUA members met with Galantha last week and were told a letter would be prepared.

Members of UHAUA got together on Nov. 30 and drew up a homeowner association and subdivision map. In this way, the group can make sure that as many residents of Antioch Township as possible can voice their opinions regarding the study.

Any residents interested in more information or who wish to attend the upcoming meeting should call 395-6606 or 395-7371. Volunteers are needed.

For the past 12 years, Carmel High School has observed the Oxfam Fast Day the week preceding Thanksgiving. On this day, there is world-wide prayer and fasting with money donated to the development ministry of Oxfam.

The students and faculty could

Postmaster tells holiday mailing tips

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

Antioch Postmaster Thomas Prince has some holiday mailing tips for residents. In addition, Prince announced extended hours for the post office on two Saturdays this month.

The office will be open from 8:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Dec. 10 and Dec. 17 to provide easier access to Antioch residents. "The extended hours have been approved by the district," said Prince.

Antioch Postal officials also have some guidelines to insure your special holiday cards and packages arrive on time. "I would say cards should be mailed by Dec. 19," said Jerry Bohmann, customer service supervisor. "That will be our peak day," he predicted. According to Bohmann, "Mondays are historically our busiest days." He said many people address Christmas cards on Sundays.

As far as packages are concerned, it is probably too late to mail packages overseas. But, for packages mailed inside the U.S., there is still time.

"For express mail, packages must be sent two days before Christmas," said Bohmann. "With priority mail, three to four days before." Although, he admits, "We have a lot of express mail deliveries on Christmas Day."

Packages sent parcel post need to be sent before Dec. 16 in order to arrive before Christmas. During the rest of the year, parcel post normally takes a week to 10 days, but during the holidays packages can take up to 12 days for delivery.

Postal customers are encouraged to make sure the proper zip code is used. Zip code books are available at the post office.

With bad weather approaching, residents are reminded to keep mailboxes accessible. "Keeps walks and approaches to mail receptacles clear," said Prince.

Some other tips to keep the mail moving include the use of strapping tape on packages. Do not use string or masking and scotch tape. Strapping tape is available at the post office. Another tip is to avoid using red ink on colored envelopes. Instead, use black ink on any colored envelopes so both the scanners and humans can read it.

Prince reports the Antioch Post Office is doing well this holiday season. "We're a nice little happy town," Prince said. "We are well staffed." He said their goal is to get the mail delivered by 4 p.m. every day.

LaForge and Schmehl families learn miracles do happen

I have always considered myself lucky to have been blessed with four healthy, normal children. However, as a result of Jim, Jr., and his good friend, Jeff LaForge, surviving a terrible truck/car accident, I now believe in miracles. Jeff's parents, Sandy and David LaForge, and my husband Jim, Sr. and I would like to thank all of the people who helped our boys in their time of need and all of the wonderful friends and family members who sent notes, verbal messages and flowers of well wishes.

The kindness and medical training of the paramedics, fireman and passers-by at the scene of the accident was invaluable. My husband and I would like to thank the doctors and nurses of the Kenosha Hospital and Medical Center who expertly and lovingly attended to Jim in the emergency room and later in his hospital room.

Sandy and Dave would like to thank the medical teams at St. Catherine's Hospital in Kenosha for their immediate and fine care of Jeff, the Flight for Life Helicopter crew, and finally the wonderful doctors and nurses at Children's Hospital in Milwaukee for their expert, loving and patient care as they tended Jeff's injuries. Last, but not least, Sandy, Dave, Jim and I offer thanks beyond words to God for guiding the medical people to do their best in caring for our sons, giving our boys the strength to survive and helping us through our worries one step at a time. Jeff and Jim, know that you are loved by many.

Sixties/seventies

Let's see now, when were "go-go dancers" so popular? I truly can't remember if it was the '60s or the '70s. However, I recently heard something from one of our Camp Crayon little ones that, No. 1, made me chuckle, and No. 2, sent me back in time.

room, we have a long table. This is where we place the children's finished projects, etc., that are to go home with them at the day's end. We therefore assigned it a totally appropriate name—"the go-home table." To quote Jacob, "Miss Liz, I will put my coloring paper on the 'go-go' table." Did I correct him? I absolutely did not. Instead, we now have another cute example of "out of the mouths of babes."

Release your grip

"Hey, lady, you're ripping my jacket!" came Victor Bennett's feeble cry for help. Celia and Victor Bennett are former Antiochians who moved to Georgia approximately seven years or so ago. The Friday after Thanksgiving, Victor announced to Celia that he was going to the local Wal-Mart prior to 6 a.m. in order to participate in a special sale. He couldn't believe it when he pulled into the parking lot at approximately 5:45 a.m. and saw about 200 to 300 ladies lined up outside waiting for the doors to open.

He considered returning home. However, he really can't pass up a bargain and the price for the VCR on special was quite reasonable. So, he parked his vehicle and assumed his place in line with all of the women. At 6 a.m. sharp, the manager came to open the doors and the huge, eager crowd of female bargain seekers began to move through them like a herd of cattle going to their slaughter.

Victor began to go with the flow, when he felt someone pulling on his jacket. He mentioned the wrong doing to the woman and her excuse for rudeness was, "Well, you were trying to get in front of me." Victor replied, "Lady, I am only moving with the flow."

Once inside the store, he went straight over to the VCR section, only to discover there were no more specials available. He shook his head, left the store and vowed never to participate in a day after Thanksgiving "early bird" special from that day forth.

Visitors

The Camp Crayon staff members truly enjoy it when former Camp Crayonites pay them a visit. Recently, five-year-old Tricia Pringle, her mom Lynn, little sister Stephanie and 10-month-old cousin Kelsey Schreiber, stopped by to say "hi." Tricia attended Camp Crayon for three years and is now a kindergarten student at Grass Lake School.

While it has only been six months since Tricia graduated Camp, Miss Marie, Miss Liz, Miss Mary and Miss Lois couldn't believe how much she had grown. It certainly doesn't take long for these little ones to grow up. Tricia really likes kindergarten (and we knew she would, because she is really smart).

It looks like it won't be long before little Stephanie follows in Tricia's footsteps and joins the ranks of the Camp Crayon program. It was great seeing all of you, and Tricia, keep up the great work in the "big" school.

Woman's club

The Antioch Woman's Club would like to welcome the following new members aboard—Rosemary Ferguson, Pat Groh, Vi Walsh Mattson, Faith Morzos, Joyce Olson, Gail Rasmussen and Shirley Turney.

The Woman's Club is already beginning to work on the annual card party that will be held at Spring Valley Country Club on Wednesday, April 26.

Once again, the Christmas Luncheon will feature a silent auction. The date for this luncheon is Dec. 14 and will be held at the beautiful Waterfalls Restaurant in Antioch.

Antioch has many great gift ideas for difficult people

Christmas seems to be rushing upon us. There are just two weeks left before Christmas. Hardly enough time to finish all that shopping (unless you are that one person who makes sure they finish their shopping before Halloween).

It's time to look over your list and check it twice. You've probably already bought gifts for those "easy to please" people. But check your list again and see how many of "these" people you still need a gift for.

Uncle Frank, the neighbor down the street who catches your dog when he breaks loose, the cousin you never met that is spending this Christmas with you, your brother who loves sports but never seems to like anything, Aunt Myrtle who just celebrated her 90th birthday, your new brother-in-law who wears two earrings in each ear, and Grandpa Bob who hates spending money.

These are the people that make Christmas shopping a nightmare. The people who seem to have everything and need nothing. But you still need to find the "perfect" gift for them.

You'll find a lot of wonderful gifts and terrific service while shopping in downtown Antioch. To help make these difficult decisions easier, I asked Antioch Merchants to suggest a gift that could be perfect for that person who is so difficult to please. Here are some gift suggestions that might help:

JJ Blinkers suggests that "Buck Book" which comes with a real one dollar bill and suggests all sorts of things you can do with a dollar bill—besides spend it.

Hear the noisy alarm clocks at Choosey Child. Great for adults and kids. You'll find aerobic hippos, singing dogs and pigs, helicopters, motorcycles, castles, the list goes on.

Antioch Schwinn suggest Oakley Sunglasses; suitable for any age. They are fashionable, yet distortion free, impact resistant sunglasses.

The Clothes Connection suggests Polo Club Sweatshirts which are suitable for both men and women at affordable prices.

If that person on your list is a pet owner, stop by Pinetree Pet Shop for the latest in pet care and supplies.

Antioch Travel offers gift certificates for a one day or weekend get-away. Pick up a certificate which is your invitation to "Tina's and Tony's Wedding" which is playing in Chicago. Be an actual guest at the wedding, this year's hottest play.

Innovative's Emporium says a sure bet in gift giving are heavy weight nine ounce sweatshirts with set-in sleeves, perfect for our cold weather. You can customize them with fish, baseball, flowers, any sport or hobby. The perfect "catch all" gift.

Creative Glass will personalize coffee mugs for a nice gift under $10. Most people drink coffee or tea, so it's a gift that will be used and appreciated.

Dolly's Second Showing offers an extensive selection of Marcasite and Sterling Silver Jewelry. Earrings, pins, necklaces, the choice is abundant.

Quilters Dream suggests an heirloom tree skirt by Jan Wilke. Jan is a local crafter that offers a unique collection of tree skirts that are perfect for a family treasure.

Personalized ornaments in many shapes, sizes, styles, and varieties are found at the Tulip Patch. Personalization is free of course. You'll find ornaments for the golfer or sports enthusiast, as well as southwest and traditional ornaments. Pick up an ornament in the shape of Illinois or Wisconsin for an unusual keepsake.

How about a "Couch Server?" Perfect for the person who has everything. A small table that slides over the seat of a couch, making it convenient for drinks and other necessities. Available in 12 different finishes at Patricia's Amish Furniture.

Most people enjoy receiving a good book as a gift. You'll find a nice selection at Sonshine Books.

Diamonds will always make someone happy. Visit Johnson's Jeweler's and Persin and Persin for your diamond selections.

Give a living gift of a green plant that will continue to give enjoyment year round, available from Floral Acres and Lasco's Florist.

A real treat is a gift certificate from Baskin Robbins. Always a delight and will bring a smile to your face.

Give that die hard sports fan their own "Pro Bear" collector teddy bear from BJ's Sports. Standing 36-inches tall, you'll find them all fitted up and ready to play Chicago Bears come with helmet, jersey and shoulder pads. Your Blackhawk bear comes fitted up, even with skates. Don't forget those Green Bay fans too!

If you are tired of the "norm," give the man on your list a ultra silk shirt, which looks great and feels even better. Found at BJ's Fashions. Or check out their "Happy Shorts" available in silk or cotton, they'll put a "Smile" on anyone's face.

Brans Nuts has plenty of pre-packed tins of nuts and candy available. Check out their gourmet foods and breads, jellies, salsa sauces, imported candies, etc. You can custom mix a basket or gift box for the person on your list.

How about giving some tanning lotion? The perfect gift to accompany a gift certificate from Coconuts Tanning Salon. A great way to keep up your tan on those gray winter days.

Hope these ideas help make your shopping a little easier. Contact your local merchant for more information and ideas.

On a more somber note, many of you probably noticed the absence of Shop Antioch two weeks ago. I'd like to take this opportunity to say good-bye to a person who has been part of the Antioch community for the past 30 years. Elaine Olson came to Antioch in the mid '60s and opened the General Store, one of Lake County's most unique and exclusive gift shops. For 20 years the General Store was a valuable asset to downtown Antioch. When the store closed, Elaine remained active in her community and helped launch the beginning of Choosey Child. For the past three years, you could find Elaine at Choosey Child, helping you select a gift, or just having a chat as if you were an old friend. Antioch is comprised of people like Elaine, people who care about their community and the people in it. It's with great sadness that I say good-bye to Elaine, my mentor, my best friend, my Mom. (Elaine Olson 1931-1994).

Students learn about colonial life

Grass Lake School seventh grade students in Carolyn Adam's social studies class transformed their classroom into a colonial inn dining room decorated with pumpkin-colored tablecloths, fall centerpieces and priscilla curtains. Dressed in colonial clothes, the class enjoyed a Thanksgiving luncheon and program.

Prior to the luncheon, the seventh graders studied about daily life in the 13 colonies. They patterned their Thanksgiving celebration after the Virginia Colony in the mid-1700s. The students said that traveling back in time and acting out what they had been studying was fun. Lisa Giles said that her most favorite part was wearing a pretty, long dress. She said that all of the girls liked dressing up. Three of the boys, Adam Crutchfield, Josh Gibson and Jeff Johansson, said that they loved the turkey dinner.

Highlights of the afternoon's festivities included a Thanksgiving poem, story and a colonial dance choreographed by Steve Bartlett, P.E. teacher. The dancers were T.J. Dawson, Angie Fragassi, Lisa Giles, Sara Groh, Megan McHale, Alan Marinaro, Carlos Rosello and Nick Staten.

Adams enjoyed helping the students plan and prepare for their special occasion. "The students really worked hard and should be complimented for all of their efforts. They studied hard, prepared pies for baking, made butter, planned a program and decorated beautifully," the teacher said.

Guests for the luncheon were Jim Beveridge, superintendent; Bartlett; science teacher Ted Gavlin; math teacher Kym Krocza; and English teacher Raymond Liss. Guests for the program were Sandra Nolan and her third grade class.

Geo-Karis tells crime bill targets

Criminal gangs, drunk drivers and juvenile delinquents are the targets of a broad anti-crime bill approved today by the Illinois Senate, according to State Sen. Adeline J. Geo-Karis (R-Zion).

"This is a strong measure that has won bipartisan support," said Geo-Karis, one of the co-sponsors of Senate Bill 1153. "It responds to Illinoisans' concerns about crime on the streets, residential safety and child protection with tough provisions that will help to deter crime and punish those who continue to prey upon society."

Sen. Geo-Karis noted that another bill (Senate Bill 1232) was passed by the General Assembly to reenact the child shield law so that child victims won't have to face their abusers in open court. The law had been ruled unconstitutional, but Illinois voters approved a constitutional amendment in November that permits televised testimony from children, to spare them the trauma of court testimony.

"Our crime bill has a powerful message for gangs," Geo-Karis said. "It increases the penalty for forcing a minor into gang membership, provides for extended terms for felonies committed by gang leaders and requires a minimum of 30 to 120 hours community service for gang-related offenses. It also increases the penalties for the unlawful possession of a handgun and for armed violence."

Geo-Karis said the legislation comes down hard on individuals who sell guns to juveniles, and just as hard on juveniles involved in serious crimes. It permits the operation of secure residential facilities for juvenile delinquents and authorizes extended detention for delinquents aged 10 to 12, who could be a danger to themselves or others.

"It specifies a minimum five-year sentence for minors guilty of first degree murder and calls for transfer to adult court for 15- and 16-year-olds who commit gang or drug-related felonies," Geo-Karis said. "Furthermore, juveniles involved in gang offenses can be required to perform community service."

Geo-Karis said the bill has enhanced penalties for gun-running. A defendant can be required to surrender all firearms while on bail. Confiscated weapons are to be destroyed, rather than sold.

Individuals guilty of DUI while their driver's licenses are revoked could be forced to serve 30 days in jail or perform 720 hours of community service. There is a 24-month minimum probation for first-time drug violations, including mandatory drug testing and a community service requirement.

Antioch Lower Grade congratulates reading program participants

Every year, the Antioch Lower Grade School sponsors a summer reading program for all students entering kindergarten through the third grade.

The purpose of this program is to promote reading among the children at a time when it takes a backseat to other activities. This is not meant to replace those summer activities, but to stress the equal importance of reading. An example given would be to share and read the travel brochures about the place that the family will be vacationing at during the summer.

The goal for the summer of 1994 was to read 800 minutes or more from June 1 to Aug. 31.

The students who joined in Antioch Lower Grade School's summer reading program were:

Second grade—Mark Decker, Christopher Morgan, Robert Murrin, Mandy Tomasello, Christine Korkowski, Eric Kruthers, Jason DesBiens, Jacob August, Ryan

Also participating were Patrick Cratty, Tyler Bolton and Brittany Dunleavy.

Teacher researches multi-year concept

According to action research conducted by Antioch Dist. 34 teacher Michelle Malo, the multi-year teacher-student relationship program piloted in Dist. 34 the previous two years should be "continued and expanded." Malo added, "The response of the parents, students, teachers and administrators has been overwhelmingly positive, as represented through the surveys and interviews conducted for this study."

The district began the program in the fall of 1993 by approaching several teachers about moving to the next grade level at the end of the school year and teacher virtually all of the students they currently had in the next grade. Three teachers, all at different grade levels, agreed to the proposal.

At the end of year two, parent surveys found 90 percent of the parents thought their child was enthusiastic about returning to school with the same teacher the following year and that they had, in fact, settled into the school year more easily than they had in previous years. Ninety-two percent of the parents surveyed agreed that the school district should continue to offer multi-year teacher-student opportunities. Student surveys revealed that 100 percent of first graders, 88 percent of third graders, and 71 percent of fifth graders were pleased with having their same teacher for two years in a row.

According to Malo, all three participating teachers "felt the experience had been very worthwhile." The teachers' comments included that positive bonding with the group produced a high degree of cohesiveness, trust and cooperation, the class settled into the second year learning process much more "quickly and easily," and since references to the prior year's concepts and curriculum could be easily made, less time was required for review and re-teaching.

Malo's research found that while multiyear teacher-student relationships are somewhat unique in America, "it has been practiced in other countries for some time. In Japan, for example, classes throughout the students' entire elementary years, and in some German schools groups of students stay with the same team of teachers for six years."

Dr. Daniel Burke, Dist. 34 superintendent, not only encourages the practice, but considers it an essential element of a truly child-centered school philosophy. "Parents do not send their child to a new pediatrician each year. Rather, as much as possible, they arrange for a single pediatrician to monitor their child's growth from year to year and from one stage of development to the next. Most parents realize that, over time, one doctor's evolved knowledge of their child's development is the most effective manner in which to manage that child's health care. Similarly, as teachers are the managers of the child's academic and social development they, too should design the child's learning plan over an extended period of time."

Burke added that school effectiveness research consistently illustrates that long-term classroom teacher-student relationships improve both student productivity, and teach job satisfaction.

Gingerbread sweetens theme in Long Grove

There's a new touch added to the traditional Countryside Christmas celebration in Long Grove, and that's a Gingerbread House for the visitor's center; a gingerbread house contest sponsored by the Long Grove Merchants Assn.; and gingerbread men joining the other decorations that Long Grove is noted for.

Again this year, pine boughs, red bows and twinkling lights will adorn the buildings—many of them landmark—that house over 100 shops and restaurants in the historic village.

Twenty Christmas trees, decorated by non-profit community groups and area schools, will be displayed throughout. Horse-drawn carriage rides, both day and twilight, will clip-clop with sleigh bells ringing along the country roads, and over the covered bridge.

When dusk falls, luminarias light the cobbled pathways between the shops. Weekends strolling groups of singers and musicians fill the air with holiday music.

The Gingerbread House, near Fountain Square, will be the collection point for warm outerwear to be distributed to the homeless.

Long Grove hours are generally from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily, but may vary during the holiday season.

For information call 634-0888. Long Grove is near the intersection of Rtes. 53 and 83 in Lake County.

Victory Lakes holds food drive

It's sometimes hard to believe, but there are still many Americans who go to bed hungry every night. And some of them are in Lake County. To help make sure the needy residents of Lake Villa Twp. enjoy some good food during the holidays, Victory Lakes Continuing Care Center, Lindenhurst, is holding a community food drive from now until Dec. 20.

Area residents are invited to drop off toiletries, canned goods and other non-perishable food donations in the convenient food drive bin located in the reception area of Victory Lakes, 1055 Grand Ave., Lindenhurst, from 9:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. seven days a week. Residents of Victory Lakes will package the food and distribute it to the Lake Villa Twp. Food Pantry. The food pantry, which was established in 1989, distributes food supplies on a temporary supplemental basis to needy township families.

A jubilant Jim Fields and wife, Gayle, in 1980, when Fields began his term as County Board member.

"Jim dedicated many years of his life to his District," said Judy Martini, Fields' successor on the County Board. According to Martini, Fields has offered to help her as she learns the ropes of County Board membership. "He told me his door is always open," Martini said. In his position as Antioch Township Supervisor, Fields and Martini will need to work together.

Chairman of the Lake County Board, Robert Depke, bestowed a plaque commemorating Fields' service at the Special Call Meeting last week. Depke went on to cite the various positions Fields held during his service on the County Board.

Fields was past chairman of the County Board and held numerous positions on a number of county committees. He was chairman of both the Building and Health and Public Service Committees. He was also a member of the Forest Preserve Land Preservation and Acquisition Committee and the Enterprise Committee.

"In the 14 years, we've had so many ups and downs," said Depke of Fields' years on the board. Depke went on to say he was grateful for the support he received from Fields.

Receiving the plaque, Fields spoke briefly about his term of service. "It was an honor," he said.

Dough raising to continue

Antioch Lower Grade School and Domino's Pizza are continuing their successful "Dough Raising Night." The next Market Day pick-up and "Dough Raising Night" will be on Monday, Dec. 12. Patronage of Domino's Pizza on that night will result in great things for the school.

Congratulations to Janet Erdmann's morning kindergarten class and Joanna Blank's first grade class for ordering the most pizza and buffalo wings in October and November; they have received complimentary pizza parties for their recognition.

To participate and to obtain an order form, call 395-0845.

Construction delays for industry

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The opening of the newest addition to Antioch Industry, Janis Plastics, has been delayed. According to Downtown Development Director Claude LeMere, problems with the concrete floor has resulted in an opening delay. LeMere predicts the plant will be open in April.

It had been expected to begin operations 120 days after the start of construction inside the former Regal China plant. The closing on the building took place in June and the building has been vacant for more than three years.

However, LeMere said during the auction of Regal China's fixtures, the sump pumps were sold.

As a result, "Pockets of the floor were washed out," said LeMere. "Regal tried to patch it," said LeMere.

Janis has almost completed the pouring of the 80,000-square-foot concrete floor. A solid floor is needed to hold the heavy equipment needed to make soft plastic products.

Janis Plastics Inc., is a soft plastic company that makes molded signs, industrial parts, counter displays, and interactive displays. Current operations are in Chicago, and the owners plan to expand avoiding the closure of the Chicago plant.

The company will be bringing 125 to 140 jobs to the Antioch area. In addition, the company plans to include a "parents shift" which would run during school hours.

As a financial incentive, the Lake County Board, last summer, okayed Industrial Revenue Bonds (IRB). The bonds allowed a private financial institution to provide loans to Janis Plastics below the prime rate.

Janis Plastics purchased the building, located on North Street in Antioch, from American Brands. The Lake County Board approved $2 million in the bonds to be used for remodeling.

LeMere said Janis is hiring supervisory staff now, to be trained in their Chicago plant. When the building in Antioch is completed, those employees will work at the Antioch location.

Allans speaks to Rotary about RAM

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The Antioch Rotary Club was host, last week, to James Allans, director of international services. Allans, a member of the Wilmette Club, told the group of his experiences with the Remote Area Medical Corp (RAM).

"This is front-line Rotary in action," Allans said. "I have worked with 67 tribes in 23 years."

Allans was referring to RAM's work in Peru, Columbia,

Venezuela, Suriname, French Guyana, and Brazil. With over eight years of accumulated time in the tropics, Allans has seen, and had it all. Allans told the Rotarians about the babies he has delivered as well as the number of time he, himself, contracted malaria. "I have personally delivered 10 babies," said Allans.

The focus of RAM is to provide medical services to remote areas of the world. The group establishes clinics providing both dental and general medical services. On the last trip, 64 medico's and logisticians provided service to almost 10,000 patients.

"I love what I am doing," said Allans of his volunteer service. "Our club, with $6,500 provided $41,000 of medicine and treated 9,173 patients."

Despite the hardships, Allans is planning another trip to the "Golden Triangle" in January. He said the difficulties were worth it "when you see how happy these people are when their loved ones survive."

Antioch to have two new restaurants

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The Village of Antioch tentatively approved a liquor license for a new restaurant in Antioch, Luigi's Pasta. The new restaurant will be located in the old T.S. Boogies building on Route 83 and 173.

T.S. Boogies has been vacant for over a year. According to Downtown Development Director Claude LeMere, the restaurant will feature Italian dishes, including pasta, at modest prices.

"It will be a family restaurant," said LeMere.

Luigi's will receive a beer and wine license, which has a number of restrictions.

The former occupant, T.S. Boogies had a special use permit, according to Village Attorney Ken Clark. He told the board he needed to learn exactly how long the restaurant was unoccupied and whether or not such a permit expires. If so, Luigi's will have to apply for a special use permit as well as the beer and wine license. The board approved the license pending the necessary documentation, but no board member had any objection in principle to the plan.

According to LeMere, a new Chinese Restaurant will also be opening in Antioch, in the old TCBY location near Walgreens. "They want to be open by Jan. 15," said LeMere.

It is not known if either restaurant will offer carry-out.

Snow

Ring said his crew started working on the roads at 4:30 Tuesday afternoon, laying down a layer of sand. The crew was back out at around 2:00 a.m. Wednesday, doing the heavy plowing.

"We've been up all night," said Ring. By 9 a.m. Wednesday, almost all of the roads had been plowed at least once and crews were preparing for a second pass.

"We called everyone out at one and some of our people had trouble getting here," Semmerling said. "We had to come and get a few out."

Semmerling said the crews finished two passes, one for each side of the road, for all township roads before 6 a.m.

"The primary responsibility is to get people to work," Semmerling said.

Crews will make about four additional passes to get the mail routes and driveway approaches clear.

Semmerling said a few of the trucks had trouble because the plow would slide making turns. He said with no frost, if the plows were on the side of the road, they would get stuck in the mud.

Commuters on their way to work Wednesday morning were delightfully surprised by the excellent condition of the roads. By 7 a.m., most of the major roadways were in great shape, although side streets were a mess.

An early morning accident on Route 59 and Grass Lake Road closed both the north and south-bound lanes of Route 59 for a brief time. A truck slid off the road blocking both lanes.

Children in both towns, however, were ecstatic. Antioch Community High School and all elementary schools in Lake Villa and Antioch were closed for the day. With the heavy, wet snow, children spent the day making snowmen, throwing snowballs, and sliding.

Grant out-bowls Grayslake Rams

Grayslake bowlers are still looking for their groove as they fell to Grant in the conference opener.

Grant took the contest with a 2,180 series to Grayslake's 1,961.

"They bowled well," as Grayslake Coach Glenn Watt complimented Grant. "They got their spares and strikes, while we were lucky to get spares."

Grant's Sherry Blondford scored the most pins with a 531 series, including a 200 game.

For Grayslake, Nicole Moretti had the high series with a 454 and a 181 high game. Jenny Koll bowled a 200 game and a 437 series. The other top three Grayslake bowlers were Kristy Disch with a 388 series, Kristin Sieger with a 371 series and Carolyn Frechette with a 311 series.

"We're still struggling and trying to find our marks," Watt said. "We're a little tense. We just have to settle down and get a rhythm going."

Wrestlers open strong, prepare for Libertyville

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

Antioch wrestlers opened this season the same way they left off—dominating.

In the North Suburban Conference home opener against Mundelein, the Sequoits out-muscled the Mustangs 47-9 in the dual meet.

Lucas Dyer opened with a convincing 12-1 victory over Eric Loizeaux at 103 pounds. Justin Dyer and Matt Hlinak won by forfeit at 112 and 119, before Steve Zalapi out-matched Casey Duval 11-3 at 125.

"Dyer and Zalapi were in complete control throughout their matches," said Coach Ted Sieckowski.

Jason Krause won 6-5 over Doug Dean at 130, while James Patterson out-scored Henry Papiz 9-4 at 140. Mike Burian won by forfeit at 135.

Two Antioch wrestlers recorded pins. Jim Stevens, wrestling at 145, pinned Brian Goodman at the 2:21 mark, while 171-pounder Brian Maiké won by fall with :47.

"Jim Stevens and Brian Maiké really showed hard work and tremendous skill," Sieckowski said. "Jim Stevens was too physical for his kid."

Losing close matches were Jason Breen at 152 (12-9), Greg Laube at 160 (9-2), and Tim Czizanskas at 189 (10-7).

In the heavy weight division Antioch's Jake Nathan defeated Tony Lomareaux 13-9.

"Jake Nathan did a fine job with a much larger and stronger opponent than him," Sieckowski said. "Jake toughed it out in a difficult decision."

Following the Mundelein dual, Antioch wrestled in the prestigious Stag Invitational and finished fourth among 12 teams. Wrestling rival Libertyville took third in the tourney with 144.5 points, while Antioch scored 134.5.

Justin Dyer gave Antioch a championship match when he outscored his Waubonsie Valley opponent 9-5 at 112. Stevens also advanced to a championship match at 145 but was pinned at the 5-minute mark.

After hosting Stevenson Thursday, Antioch hosts perennially tough Libertyville Friday night. Both the Sequoits and the Wildcats had the opportunity to scout each other out during the Stag tourney.

Sieckowski said defeating Libertyville will be key to defending last year's conference title.

"Libertyville is really going to be the showcase in dual meets," Sieckowski said.

Sequoits' Kane earns all-around 1st in gymnastics

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

Once key gymnasts return to the floor from injuries and sickness, Antioch Coach Mary Ann Stahel believes Sequoit gymnasts can consistently score in the 120s.

Antioch did just that against Crystal Lake Central, defeating them 120.5 to 104.5. In an earlier meet, Antioch defeated Waukegan 114.5 to 87.

Jessica Kane earned the all-around first place award with a 35. She scored an 8.6 on the uneven bars, an 8.5 on the vault, a 9.1 on the balance beam and an 8.8 on the floor exercise.

"She's been scoring very well on the floor and the beam with her consistency and expression," said first-year coach Stahel.

Antioch's Angie Pederson took second in the all-around with a 31.7. She scored a 7.8 on the uneven bars, an 8.2 on the vault, a 7.4 on the balance beam and an 8.3 on the floor exercise.

"She's got a lot of skills coming together," Stahel said of Pederson.

Heidie Wirtz's 30.7 was good enough for a third place all-around finish. She scored a 7.3 on the uneven bars, an 8.0 on the vault, a 7.9 on the balance beam, and a 7.5 on the floor exercise.

"We're definitely trying to set our own goals right now," said Stahel. Scoring in the 120s consistently is one of them, she said.

She said once Heather Haenchen and Deanne Dalgaard return to action, the Sequoits will be able to score in the 120s more frequently. After competing against Fenton Wednesday, Antioch travels to Crystal Lake South Dec. 12.

Antioch battles back, but drops NSC opener

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

There will be no gimmes in North Suburban Conference basketball this season.

At first, it look like Zion-Benton was going to runaway with the game, but then Antioch fought back and appeared ready to seal the victory. In the end, Antioch dropped the conference opener to Zion 67-60.

Zion jumped out to a quick 15-0 lead before Kevin Eckenstahler sunk Antioch's first basket. Zion dominated the first quarter with a 22-12 performance.

That's when the Sequoits poured on a 12-0 run and took a 24-22 advantage with 5:22 to go in the second. Adam Becker (19 points) scored 10 of those 12 points, and 6'7" Eric Eckenstahler recorded three blocked shots in the same stretch including two back-to-back blocks against Zion's Darlus Wesley. After the opening smothering, the Sequoits were happy to walk into the locker room with a 28-28 tie at intermission.

"I saw a lot of positives out there," said Coach Jeff Dresser. "The kids do show character. It was a shame we let this one get away at home."

Both teams exchanged leads in the third quarter, with Eric Eckenstahler scoring nine of his 14 points in the third. He also added two more blocks. Both Becker and Kevin Geraghty (9 points) dropped baskets from three-point range to help give Antioch the 48-46 lead after 24 minutes.

Point guard Eric Campbell called the plays for Antioch against an in-your-face defense by Zion. He also added four points, including an underhand lay-up between two Zion defenders to give Antioch a 55-51 lead midway into the fourth quarter.

"I think Campbell did a good job coping with their press," Dresser said. He also complemented Dan Riepe for being in the right place at the right time.

Led by Chuck Patton (24 points) and Theandre Kimbrough (18 points), Zion managed to hold Antioch to one hoop in the See NSC page A13

Enigma powers in 10 goals, Blitz struggles on - LINDENHURST Police

Blitz

Hard luck continued to follow the Blitz to Poplar Creek Sports Centre as they dropped a tough one to the Wauconda Chiefs by a score of 2-1.

It was a classic soccer game between two perfectly matched teams. A mental mistake by the Blitz let the Chiefs score an uncontested goal early in the first half.

Trailing 1-0 after the break, Blitz keeper Melissa Helbig made several saves to keep the Chiefs out of the net, while the rest of the Blitz peppered the Wauconda goal.

With just 58 seconds left in the game, Lindenhurst put on a full press which included bringing the goalkeeper into the offensive action. A Blitz pass into the offensive zone unfortunately made contact with a Wauconda player running to catch the play and sent the ball back to the vacant Lindenhurst end, where it was pushed in for a 2-0 Wauconda lead.

Seconds later, Lindenhurst's Nicki Kral sent a shot though the goal mouth that deflected off a Wauconda defender for the lone Blitz score. The Blitz (0-3-1) take on the BASA Blitz from Barrington this Sunday at Poplar Creek Sports Centre.

Enigma

The Enigma girls under 19 soccer team remained undefeated in indoor play with a 10-0 victory over Team Pegasus.

Jen Koll put in the first two goals of the evening. Tallying single goals for Lindenhurst were Heather Burke, Angel Giangiorgi, Jaime Halperin, Colene Hardy, Jaimee Porter, Jenny Porter, Jaimee Rinehart and Tanya Weiwei. Assisting on three of the goals was Sheri Kwiatkowski.

The Enigma is now 3-0 on the season and next plays Libertyville in a game that could determine the division championship.

Rams Kerns, Pak gain state ranking

There may have been no varsity wrestling meets last week for Grayslake High's team, but that does not mean the Rams were idle.

"They wrestled five matches in 30 minutes today in practice," Coach Erick Skoog said.

This is in preparation for the Northwest Suburban Conference battle at Wauconda Dec. 9 at 7 p.m. Grayslake was without competition last week due to the Round Lake teachers' strike. The forfeit gives the Rams a 3-2 dual mark.

"We have had close matches with Wauconda the last couple of years. They will be hungry for us," Skoog said.

The Rams received word that two wrestlers were either ranked or mentioned by The Grapple magazine. Joe Kerns, undefeated at 145 pounds, is ranked fifth state-wide. Eddie Pak was an honorable mention at 152 pounds.

"Joe now has some offensive attack. He is our leader in take-downs and technical falls," Skoog said.

The Rams need more than the Big Two if they are to contend in the NWSC this winter. Other key personnel include Nick Day at 130, Justin Wood at 152 or 160 and Vince Carrera, a freshman.

The Rams compete in the eight-team Wheeling meet Dec. 10. Then Grant the next NWSC foe at home Dec. 15.

"We will be calling it 'Grant Week'," Skoog said. The inspiration weeks will be for the conference teams which downed the Rams last year, Grant and Johnsburg.

One night wrestling fans should mark on their calendar is Jan. 17. The Rams will be wearing the uniforms of the last year the school won the NWSC tourney, 1975. "I was able to bring them out of storage," Skoog said. Johnsburg supplies the foe that night.

Grant, Johnsburg seeking momentum in NWSC race

A more controlled basketball game will top the agenda when Grant High's boys team travels to Johnsburg Dec. 9.

"I do not remember being involved in a game with 56 turnovers," Grant Coach Tom Maple said.

The good news of the trip to Woodstock last week was the Bulldogs started Northwest Suburban Conference play with a 64-53 win over Marian Central.

Against Johnsburg, the Bulldogs (2-2) will be facing a 3-1 Skyhawk contingent which disposed of Wauconda 61-48.

"They have three all-conference candidates in Eric Peterson, Jason Miller and Brandon Gough. All three have experience and above average skills," Maple said.

The saving factor for Grant was free-throws and specifically by Dave Stone. Stone had 7-for-10, all 7 in the fourth quarter and finished with 17 points.

"The kids know that getting the ball to Dave is part of the game plan. He has a good history of free-throw shooting. We are looking for him to do even better this year," Maple said.

Chris Gallimore, a 6-foot, 4-inch junior center, scored 16 points despite not starting. "He scored 12 in the second and third quarters. We need that dimension because without him, we are a pretty small team," Maple said.

Also contributing a strong game was Brian Mikels. He scored 11 points from his guard position.

"He has a generally good skills in everything," Maple said.

The style of play for Marian was not unexpected. "We worked on that all week, to be in control. But we were not until the fourth quarter," Maple said.

Grant was scheduled to play

Round Lake Tuesday, but the rivalry game was delayed due to the Round Lake teachers strike. "I do not think there was much talk of not getting to play them, but more of compassion," Maple said.

Idle Friday was Grayslake. The Rams (2-1 at Sycamore tourney) home opener is Dec. 9 at 7 p.m. against Wauconda.

Grant has a non-conference test at McHenry at 7:30 p.m. Dec. 10.

NSC

final three minutes and to score the final 12 points for the win.

"We missed some easy lay-ups, and we gave up too many second opportunities to Zion," Dresser said. "Except for the early portions of the first quarter and at the end of the game, we played well."

The following night Antioch dropped another conference game to Lake Forest 50-41. Eric Eckenstaler led Antioch with 16 points, but Lake Forest's Ed Cage proved too much with 23 points of his own.

Antioch, 0-2 in the conference and 3-2 overall, travels to Libertyville Friday for another key NSC match up.

Antioch freshman wrestlers win tournament

Antioch's winning tradition in wrestling begins at the freshman level.

The freshman grapplers took the Grayslake Invitational Tournament by storm. Antioch dominated by winning 206 team points with Maine West at a distant second with 160 points followed by Libertyville with 152 points.

Participating high schools included Antioch, Grayslake, Libertyville, Warren, Johnsburg, Maine West and Grant.

In 15 weight classes, Antioch wrestlers had six champions, one second place, one third place and five fourth places.

119; Jeff Ultes, 140; Eric Vos, 152; Kyle Wisniewski, 189; and Justin Triplett, 275.

Other place winners included: Jesse Hall, second place, 125; Bill Werchek, third place, 103; Ryan Bennecke, fourth place, 90; Eric Ring, fourth place, 130; Chris Knuth, fourth place, 135; Kyle Kantaek, fourth place, 145; and Jeremy Grace, fourth place.

Laying it up

Antioch's Carrie Gofron looks for two of her four points against Zion-Benton. After defeating Zion-Benton 33-28 in the conference opener, the Lady Sequoils went on to defeat Lake Forest 38-33 and temporarily enjoyed a first-place tie in the North Suburban Conference. The girls basketball team, however, dropped a conference game to Libertyville 44-27. The girls basketball team travels to Fenton Tuesday.—Photo by Steve Young

Green thumbs run in the family at Koeune's Flower Farm

HOPE STODDARD

Staff Reporter

Upon entering Koeune's Flower Farm, located approximately 3/4 mile north of Route 173 on Route 45, the smells and colors of the holiday season greet you instantly. Your eyes will stare in amazement at the brightly colored new varieties (13 in all) of poinsettia plants, which range from pots with blooms two feet across to hanging baskets that are three-and-a-half feet across, in a variety of colors. To be ready for the holiday season, poinsettias are started the first week of July. Along with poinsettias, there is cyclamen, which the Koeunes just recently finished planting for next season, since the plant takes a year to grow. All the plants are lovingly grown in homemade dirt, which is mixed as carefully as you would your favorite recipe.

Contrary to popular belief, poinsettias are not poisonous to children or household pets. In fact, a scientific investigation conducted by the Society of American Florists and Ohio State University shows that even if a 50 pound child ingested 500 poinsettia leaves, there would be no toxicity.

Gene Koeune III, owner of Koeune's Flower Farm (pronounced Kay-nees) along with his wife Janice, was definitely born with a green thumb. Both sets of Gene Koeune's grandparents were growers originally from Luxembourg. Eugene Koeune Sr.

came to America in the early 1900s, and by 1919 was operating his own greenhouse in Rogers Park. In 1938, the greenhouse was moved to Morton Grove.

After Eugene Jr. returned from World War II, surviving Iwo Jima, he joined his father in working at the greenhouse, and called it "Koeune & Sons." In 1952, Eugene Jr. and his brother bought the greenhouse. In 1972, when Gene III finished college, studying electrical engineering from Marquette, and a degree in ornamental horticulture from the University of Illinois, he and Eugene Jr. built Koeune's Flower Farm in Antioch.

Gene III's mother, one of 11 Pesche children, was born in Des Plaines, where the family still operates a greenhouse on River Road. Today, Gene III and Janice Koeune own and operate the greenhouse in Antioch, but Gene's parents are still involved in the business, and consider themselves "semi-retired." Gene's mother works every morning. "When Gene's mom retires, we'll have to hire three ladies to take her place," said Janice.

Also on hand at the flower farm this holiday season are geraniums, handmade wreaths and grave blankets, and only the best Fraser, Douglas, and Balsam Christmas trees. This retail only flower farm changes inventory as the seasons change. For instance, during

Easter you will find Easter lilies, and for Valentine's Day, there are azaleas and roses. In the spring, Koeune's offers a variety of shrubs and bushes. Koeune's also has 200-plus varieties of perennials and 200-plus varieties of annuals. Every year, and especially for their annual Thanksgiving open house when they offer poinsettias and cyclamen at 10 percent off, Koeune's draws customers from Chicago, Milwaukee, and even loyal customers from as far as Lockport.

Janice likened taking care of plants to taking care of babies. "It's a 24-hour-a-day job," she said, "Gene gets up and check them in the middle of the night to make sure the room temperature and moisture is just right." To do this kind of work, "you have to really love it." And it's clear that she does, with the excitement and pride you hear in her voice and see in her eyes as she talks about her "babies." Janice also takes great care in making sure all her customers leave with the proper instructions for taking care of their purchase. Janice will even explain how to keep your poinsettia long after the holiday season.

The Koeunes love their work so much so that six years ago, they were married among the poinsettia blooms at the greenhouse.

Celebrate National Poinsettia Day on December 12, and give your home a burst of holiday color with a thriving poinsettia from Koeune's. Or better yet, purchase two, so you can give one as a gift for a friend. But you'd better hurry, because Koeune's closes its doors to the public after Christmas, and will reopen come springtime.

For more information, you can call Koeune's at (708) 395-0101.

Depke calls for more cooperation on board

RHONDA HETRICK BURKE
Editor in Chief

The holiday spirit of goodwill was in the air as Lake County Board Chairman Robert Depke made a call to end animosity amongst board members in his acceptance speech after being reelected chairman.

Debra Halas will serve as vice-chair for her second term. James LaBelle of Zion was elected forest preserve president and Pamela Newton forest preserve vice-president.

The holiday spirit seemed to prevail throughout the morning as county board members set to the business of electing a new chair, vice-chair and forest preserve leaders. Unlike previous boards which took up to two days to complete a chairmanship election, the current board wrapped up all four elections in time for a luncheon at Midlane Country Club. The session included time for hugging, cheering and the chance to talk amongst each other about the importance of working together.

"If we could alleviate some animosity when the meeting is over we can go a long way," said an emotional Depke. "This is a fine board with much work to do."

As expected, Carol Calabresa challenged Depke for the chairman's position. She was nominated by Martha Marks who said she believed there should be a choice in electing a chairman.

When the roll was called, 18 cast their voice votes for Depke and five for Calabresa.

"The spirit is growing and we will continue to gain support," said Calabresa. "We represent a large number of people in the County who are concerned about growth and want a balance."

Voting for Calabresa were: Marks, Suzi Schmidt, Calabresa and newcomers Judy Martini and Diana O'Kelly.

Depke also lauded his wife of nearly 26 years, GeorgeAnne Depke, for her support of his position.

Speaker to-be Daniels sketches GOP agenda

KEVIN HANRAHAN
Staff Reporter

Republicans are still reveling in the afterglow of their electoral sweep across the county, state and nation, and, to continue the party, State Rep. Andrea Moore (R-Libertyville) held a special reception to introduce the new Speaker of the House to-be, Lee Daniels (R-Elmhurst).

With the return of Governor Edgar, the Republican-controlled Senate and the General Assembly now being in the hands of Republicans, the GOP will have the opportunity to introduce legislation that was formerly blocked by a Democrat-led House.

"It's extremely important that we change the direction of government," Daniels told a gathering of local Republican leaders at the elegant Tavern in the Town restaurant in Libertyville.

Without getting into specifics, Daniels, the former minority leader in the House, said the Republican agenda would include education reform, welfare reform, crime measures, property tax relief and business expansion.

Number one in education reform will be tackling the massive Chicago public school system and its powerful teacher's union. Studies are already ongoing in determining whether to break up the district into smaller, more manageable districts.

"It's already stated as the worst public school system in the United States," Daniels said. "We don't think we can do worse... We want to meet the challenge."

He also stressed eliminating unfunded state mandates to the schools.

On property tax relief, he pointed to a tax cap in Cook County which would be modeled after the cap in the Chicago collar counties, including Lake County.

"We want to eliminate this overburdened reliance on

County paves way for extension of Yorkhouse Rd.

KEVIN HANRAHAN
Staff Reporter

Despite a packed gallery of residents opposing the proposed extension of Yorkhouse Road across the Des Plaines River, the County Board approved a series of agreements that paved the way toward properly acquiring the land to build the controversial extension.

Two proposals would extend Yorkhouse Road three-quarters of a mile through the Des Plaines River Corridor from the Soo Line Railroad tracks to Route 41. Although both plans would bisect the acclaimed Des Plaines River Wetland Demonstration Project, the northerly route would be more environmentally pleasing than the other.

The Wetland Demonstration Project consists of approximately 550 acres of land set aside to manually restore wetlands and their ecosystems to their original state. Its success thus far has attract scientists and researchers

AT A GLANCE

Residents approve decision

LAKE ZURICH—Trustees received a standing ovation from residents who approved of the board's decision to cease the use of an abandoned sewage treatment plant as a public works facility within the next two years. Residents of the four subdivisions surrounding the Southeast Treatment Plant on Old Mill Grove Road had complained for the past several months of the constant hazards the plant would hold to neighborhood children who attend Sarah Adams Elementary School next door.

The plan calls for the village to exchange a 5-acre portion of land it owns in the village industrial park on Route 22 for an alternative site owned by a private individual. Board members are looking to finalize the deal by Jan. 23, when they will be able to announce further details.

Bids go out for equipment

FOX LAKE—At 10 a.m. Friday, Dec. 9, bids will go out for a new ambulance and an aerial ladder fire truck for the Fox Lake Fire and Rescue Department. The fire department will wait and see what kind of bids they get, but they won't be cheap. Fire Chief Stu Hoehne said a new aerial fire truck can run in the vicinity of $600,000; and an up-to-date ambulance is about $100,000. Ambulances in Fox Lake have to be replaced about every two years, said Hoehne. Although the Northern Illinois Medical Center in McHenry is only 9 miles away, one way, Fox Lake rescue goes to the V.A. Hospital in North Chicago, Victory in Waukegan, and the Lake Forest Hospital as well.

Board OK's watershed rules

GURNEE—Gurnee's watershed development ordinance won approval from village trustees as it incorporates the ordinance suggested by Lake County Stormwater Management Commission (SMC). "It changes the floodplain requirements from building 1 foot above the 100-year floodplain to 2 feet above the 100-year floodplain," Gurnee Administrator Jim Hayner said.

Strike causes lost state aid

ROUND LAKE—The continued staff strike in Round Lake Unit School District will now create lost state aid for the school district. Agreement was needed by Dec. 7 to assure the school year would end on June 30. Because the state won't fund the district for classes after June 30, the district can't complete the 176 attendance days necessary for full state aid. School board members and the union bargaining team failed to come to settlement to end the strike which is now entering its eighth week.

Library controversy ending

GRAYSLAKE—The controversy surrounding the construction site of the new Grayslake Area Public Library facility may soon be over. The library board is in the process of resolving its dispute with the park district over funds spent on a drainage basin at the Central Park site. The library had a contingency in the contract for a new site with Grayslake Gelatin in that the controversy had to be settled before a land purchase agreement was signed. Central Park was to be the site of a joint facility between the park district and the library, until the library board voted to back out of that arrangement. The library was in the process of settling the issue as of press deadline.

Taxpayers protest new levy

MUNDELEIN—It was standing room only as homeowners came out in force to protest a tax hike during a Truth in Taxation public hearing at the Mundelein Village Hall. The village is proposing a 15.2 percent property tax levy in the next 1994-95 fiscal year, compared to 13.2 percent the previous year. During a lengthy debate led by resident Ed Sullivan, village officials attempted to explain the ramifications of the proposed levy. They assured residents there would be little or no increase in their property tax, and in some cases even a decrease.

Speeders caught by police

WAUCONDA—A new police selective enforcement program helped the Wauconda Police Department cut down the number of drivers who speed through a residential area. Three off-duty officers stopped 26 drivers, and had to let a number pass through as they were kept busy during a 100-minute period the evening of Dec. 1. Police Chief Andrew W. Mayer said they issued 20 speeding tickets, four written and two verbal warnings on Route 176 at Ridge Road. Further selective traffic enforcement situations will be set up at least twice a month in order to decrease the number of traffic violations and increase safety, Mayer said.

Letter angers school district

ROUND LAKE—A letter sent to teachers crossing picket lines and substitutes drew the ire of Superintendent Mary Davis. Davis said the letter was clearly written by a union member of the striking Round Lake teachers, teacher assistants and secretaries. She said the union leadership should condemn the letter which criticizes strike breakers and tells them they will "wish they never heard of Round Lake." Davis said police are investigating the source of the letter.

Sewer meeting scheduled

ANTIOCH—An informational meeting regarding the proposed sewer feasibility study for Antioch Township will be held on Tuesday, Dec. 13 at 7:30 p.m. Sponsored by United Homeowners Association of Unincorporated Antioch (UHAUA), the meeting will be held at Felters clubhouse. At the meeting, copies of letter of intent will be distributed. The letters need to be signed and sent to the Lake County Public Works.

Crosses adorn village homes

WAUCONDA—For the past four years, Wauconda has been known as the "village with the crosses" each December, and this year will be no different. Crosses have already started lighting the evening skies in what was initially a protest against well-known atheist Robert Sherman, who told the village in 1989 he knew of a resident who planned to file a lawsuit unless the crosses were removed from the two water towers in town. A pastor suggested residents put crosses on their homes and their front lawns, and the tradition has continued. The water tower crosses were replaced with stars.

Strike hurts food pantry

ROUND LAKE PARK—The Round Lake teachers' strike has reached far beyond the effect it has on the direct parties involved. One group on the receiving end of the fallout is the Avon Township Food Pantry. Started in 1991 by Avon Township Clerk Kathy Lennon, the food pantry grew rapidly during the last three years. One of the major contributors to the food pantry and its success has been the student body of Round Lake High School—until this year. Lennon said the teachers were active as well in promoting healthy competition among the students to collect the most donations for the pantry. Though the pantry is still getting by 'okay,' Lennon said the loss of student support has been a big blow to this year's holiday donations.

Village considers Home Rule

VERNON HILLS—Mayor Roger Byrne said he believes it may be time for village officials to start seriously discussing the possibility of Home Rule. Villages with populations greater than 25,000 automatically qualify for Home Rule, which gives municipalities greater authority in drafting village ordinances than is otherwise provided in the state statutes and the state constitution. One of the more attractive incentives for Home Rule from Vernon Hills' standpoint would be the ability to receive more revenues from sales tax receipts. The village is a major retail center in the county. Byrne said additional revenue would provide more services for residents and provide more opportunities to spread the wealth to other governing bodies, such as financially strapped school districts.

property tax in the state," said Daniels, adding the new General Assembly will be open to new ideas on property tax relief.

On welfare, he promoted job creation and job training as well as a restructured Medicaid program. "We want to encourage people to get off the welfare roles," he said.

Daniels accused former Democratic leadership of blocking Republican measures, but he said he has extended the "olive branch" to House Democrats as a sign to build a friendlier relationship between the two parties.

"We hope they will be with us in developing a consensus," he said.

Depke highlights bond rating in year review

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

Lake County Board Chairman Robert Depke, revisited issues addressed by the County Board during the last County Board meeting of the term. This was also the first official meeting for Willard Helander, the County's new clerk who called the roll, for some board members for the last time.

Depke first introduced County department heads, who received a standing ovation for the work they performed. The Chairman then went on to highlight some of the issues the board addressed.

He spoke of SWALCO, the framework plan, and the hours spent on the Countryside Landfill expansion. Depke was particularly proud of the AAA rating the County received on the bond issue.

Depke touched on the Lake County Courthouse Complex, the coroners new office, Good Shepherd Hospital, the new Mundelein animal shelter, and the branch court issue in Lakehurst. He also told the group about the expansion of the Hulse Detention Center.

A pricey referendum was voted down by Lake County voters in April to expand the Hulse complex. While the need for expansion was undisputed, the price tag was very high. The bulk of the cost for the expansion was related to staffing the addition, not capital costs.

The County Board went back to work on the problem and came up with an alternative plan costing only $4 to $5 million. "We're going ahead," said Depke about the project. "The state will furnish the employees."

Depke also spoke of Grainger, Cuneo Estates, and Libertyville Estates. He was particularly proud of the County budget. "We've lived within financial constraints," he said.

Depke told the group his plan to meet with the newly elected board members and even became a little tearful. He discussed the growth of the County and the changes and challenges the board must face. "There will be another 100,000 people here by the year 2010," he predicted.

The featured speaker will be Art Contois, who will speak about a visit to Eastern Europe on a mission to distribute medical supplies.

Lake County Retired Teachers and their guests are cordially invited to attend this meeting.

Reservations are not required. Call 244-3956 for further information.

VA hosts luncheon

The North Chicago Veterans Affairs Medical Center will host its 11th annual Federal Women's Scholarship Luncheon on Dec. 8 from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. in Bldg. 4, Bourke Hall. ## Depke

"This would not be possible without her," he said. "She is a wonderful person and a wonderful lady."

Halas was unanimously reelected vice chairman. No one else was nominated.

"I was glad to see that it was a unanimous vote," she said adding it was a vote of confidence in her past performance.

The elections followed a weekend of stated wheeling and dealing in which Republican leadership is said to have reached compromise in hearing the voices of a group of five Republicans who have often challenged leaders and their decisions. LaBelle is said to have been a compromise candidate. Others mentioned for the post included: Robert Buhai, who was nominated and supported by the six Democratic members of the board, Calabresa and Marks.

Calabresa put LaBelle's name into nomination and Newton seconded it both echoing his many achievements as a member of the county board for the past 14 years.

"This is a new kind of board," said Calabresa. "Jim will work to bring the people and talents together. He will work to form a new coalition."

LaBelle received 16 votes and Buhai six in a party line vote. Mark Beaubien, Jr., of Barrington abstained from the vote for chairman.

"This feels good," LaBelle said in his acceptance speech. "I will try to be fair and do the right thing. I want to work for a consensus and focus on what we have in common as opposed to what separates us."

LaBelle said his most immediate priority as president of the Forest Preserve is to carry-out the charge of the referendum approved by voters in protecting what needs to be protected and the economic use of land.

"This is a team game," he said. "We are putting together something unique. It is what the people want."

Newton was elected vice-president and said she is excited about her new position working for the betterment of the forest preserve. Angelo Kyle was also nominated and received all six Democratic votes.

"I felt it was important after the last leadership to have a more independent person who is concerned with the forest preserve," said Calabresa.

Schmidt added the board is working with a Republican that they all believe in and who will work with everyone.

Mary Beattie will chair the Forest Preserve Committee on Rules. David Stolman is vice-chair. Schmidt, Ed Fojtik, Bob Neal, Audrey Nixon and Calabresa comprise the committee.

Yorkhouse

from across the country and the world.

"What we didn't know was that it (wetlands project) would capture the attention of people from the region, in fact people from the nation," said Joyce O'Keefe, policy manager of the Wetlands Project. "The project has become much bigger than all of us."

Referring to the wetlands as "phony" and "man-made," County Chairman Robert Depke insisted that the extension is necessary to move traffic in northern Lake County and he said neither of the proposals would harm the project. County traffic officials pointed out that much of the area in question was scarred by farming and gravel mining.

"The wetlands project is going to be safe," said Depke, later adding, "There is nothing pristine about the area at all except a gravel pit... I am for Yorkhouse Road because it's essential to help move people in Lake County."

He also said the extension would provide greater access to Waukegan Airport, which has attracted corporate and small-engine commuter flights for Baxter and Abbott employees.

The northern extension, however, depends on a complex land-swap deal between the county and the Forest Preserve District. The land exchange would provide the proper right of ways for the northern project, but county Attorney Clif Weaver said various federal restrictions on lands dedicated as forest preserves (acquired in the 1970s) but later designated for public works projects require federal approval. The southern route would not need federal approval.

"The only way to get around these restrictions is going to the Secretary of Interior," Weaver noted. Depke said a Yorkhouse Road extension was planned even before the forest preserve acquired the land in the '70s.

Some board members questioned the justification of the $12 million price tag for the extension. Carol Spielman (D-Highland Park) noted that Vernon, Libertyville and Freeport townships are expected to grow much faster than Newport and Waukegan townships, where the roadway is expected to help the most.

"The agreement that the road is needed is weak," Spielman said. "At this point, I don't think it is necessary."

Brian Staes of Wadsworth added, "The needs of many far out-weigh the needs of the few."

County Board member Martha Marks (R-Riverwoods) questioned the role of Weaver representing both the county and the Forest Preserve District on this issue. "Who is looking out for the Forest Preserve?" she asked.

She also said last year voters entrusted the Forest Preserve District with a $30 million referendum for environmental education purposes and to purchase open space in perpetuity for the people of Lake County.

"Restoration is one of the goals of the Forest Preserve, not building roads," Marks said.

The board voted 17-5 to proceed with acquiring the proper right of ways for the extension. Robert Neal (R-Wadsworth), who originally opposed the project, also voted for the extension. The vote did not include any funding for the project.

No time frame for construction has been determined.

PET OF THE WEEK

A sweetheart with a shaggy coat

"Max" is a large, sweet-faced, two- to three-year-old St. Bernard/shepherd mix male. He has a soft, shaggy white coat with large rust-brown and black patches on his face, body and tail. Max is a playful dog who loves attention and affection. This handsome dog has some training, too. Very responsive, he will sit on command and comes when called. Max prefers the company of adults and has a calm, gentle, easygoing personality. Here since April of 1993, Max is one of our longest residents, and it breaks our hearts to see this super dog as he gazes longingly from his cage, desperate for a home and a family to call his own. Max is in Cage 63.

Orphans of the Storm is located at 2200 Riverwoods Rd. in Deerfield.

Hours are 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. seven days a week. Call 945-0235 for further information.

We are pleased to announce the recent adoption of "Keaton," a shepherd/husky mix. Thank you.

Animal shelter receives Avid Scanner

Orphans of the Storm Animal Shelter, Deerfield, announces the generous donation of an Avid Scanner to their facility. The Avid Scanner represents the latest in available technology, which is used to help reunite lost pets with their owners. The scanner was donated by Dr. James Jorgenson at Hawthorn Hospital in Vernon Hills.

When a pet dog or cat is given an identification chip and becomes lost, the Avid Scanner is used to read the name of the veterinary hospital that placed the chip on the pet. The veterinarian or the 1-800 number for Avid can then provide the name, address and phone number of the pet's owner.

A scanner chip is ideally meant to be used in addition to an identification tag firmly affixed to a dog or cat's collar, listing the name, address and phone number of the pet's owner. Should a pet lose their collar or tags, the scanner chip provides an invaluable and permanent source of identification.

CLC board accepts state grant

The College of Lake County Board of Trustees has accepted a state grant for $190,786 to expand the college's participation in a "distance learning" network that links teachers and students at several colleges and universities.

"Distance learning" uses videoconferencing technology to provide expanded educational opportunities to place-bound students. Through a telecommunications network, students at a classroom on one campus can take classes offered at another campus, miles away.

The CLC funding is a portion of a Illinois Board of Higher Education Cooperation Act Grant for $1.6 million awarded to members of the North Suburban Higher Education Consortium whose members are CLC, Harper College, Oakton Community College, DePaul Univ., National Louis Univ. and Northeastern Ill. Univ. Since CLC is the consortium's fiscal agent, the college's board of trustees accepted the entire grant on behalf of the group.

The CLC portion of the grant will be used to install video conferencing equipment in a classroom at the Lakeshore Campus in Waukegan and to purchase two mobile units with the technology to operate as distance learning classes. The rest of the $1.6 million grant will be used to add new distance learning classrooms at other member campuses and to purchase telecommunications equipment.

The North Suburban Higher Education Consortium began offering classes over the distance learning network this fall. Seven courses are being offered, including two originating from CLC.

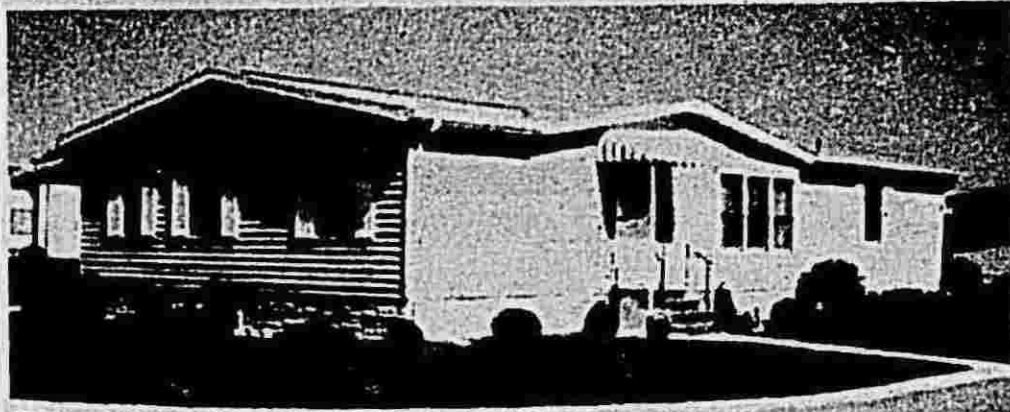

In other business, David J. LaVista, CLC president, reported that the first contracts for the Globe building renovations in Waukegan will be awarded by the end of the year, starting with asbestos removal. Contracts for other building renovations are expected to be awarded in February or March.

During the monthly staff report, Pete Marthouse, director of CLC's driver safety program, presented an overview of the program, offered in partnership with the 19th Circuit Court of Lake Co. The program was started in 1991 with a four-hour defensive driving class for motorists receiving a minor traffic violation. It now includes three additional classes used as sentencing alternatives for motorists with multiple offenses, attitude problems and alcohol-related violations. Since its beginning, the program has served 70,000 Lake Co. motorists.

Prior to the business portion of the meeting, the board conducted its yearly reorganization, electing James Lumber as chairperson and Barbara Oilschlager as vice-chairperson to serve one-year terms. Lumber, a founding CLC trustee and the first board chairman, has served as a board member throughout almost all of CLC's history. Last spring, the college recognized Lumber with the Illinois Outstanding Citizen award for his years of service to the college. He is the mayor of Round Lake and a practicing attorney in Antioch.

Union strategy failing this time

Underlying the Round Lake school strike now in its eighth week is a union miscalculation of monumental proportions.

As they have in the past—because the strategy usually has been effective—union leaders relied on public opinion to eventually swing their way. That, plus a combination of parental frustration and board of education exhaustion usually was enough to tip the scale in favor of the strikers.

The "hit 'em hard and hang on" strategy is almost standard operating procedure when the union preordains a strike.

Where the union erred in the job action against the Round Lake Unit Dist. was underestimating BOE resolve to maintain fiscal integrity. In simple terms, school officials have refused to recklessly bargain their way into another deficit quagmire like a former administration left the district $5 million in debt and on the verge of being taken over by the state.

The steady erosion of public confidence and support of the teachers' position is another interesting aspect of the Round Lake strike. Teacher complaints of unfair pay rang hollow from the start in a middle income community with a large blue collar population. Union demands for health club memberships and open-end annuities are a slap in the face to two-worker families struggling to make ends meet. Another serious union miscalculation.

Amid reckless threats and harassment of new teachers, substitutes and regular faculty members crossing picket lines, parents and citizens of Round Lake are seeing a different face on unionists, a majority of whom don't live in the community that pays their salaries. As classes are reopened and a semblance of normalcy returns, time is on the side of the district.

There are lessons to be learned in every school strike. Round Lake is demonstrating that the union has overplayed its hand and is courting self destruction.

Yorkhouse charade presages new roads

Here we go again. A controversial road is not being built. Only a "center line is being preserved." What officials are doing is "simply picking priorities for the future."

Oh yeah? These beseechments, voiced in connection with meetings of the Lake County Board on the hotly contested Yorkhouse Rd. extension, have an eerie similarity to blandishments sounded several years ago when the extension of Rte. 53 was being debated.

If you believe platitudes about center lines and options, take them to the bank at the same time you put your downpayment in for the Brooklyn Bridge. The facts are that once political powerbrokers decide a highway is going to be built, regardless of cost, absence of evidence for need or consequences to the environment, that's the way new roads are built in these parts.

County Chairman Bob Depke and his rubber stamp majority pulled out all the stops to grease the way for Yorkhouse Rd., Depke's one-time "escape route" from potential nuclear disaster at the Zion power plant. Land swaps with the Forest Preserve Dist., fancy $560,000 surveys, learned dialog from Transportation Director Martin Buehler, and hurried triple pre-holiday committee meetings are all part of the window dressing that goes into highway building.

Even possible destruction of the famed DesPlaines Wetlands Demonstration project didn't deter the road building onslaught. Yorkhouse Rd. is a high stakes proposition. County Board Rep. Bob Neal, who opposed the extension to gain reelection, accepted the stigma of being labeled a double-crosser by supporting enabling motions keeping Yorkhouse alive.

Make no mistake. Members of the growth-at-all-costs bloc are getting good at what they're doing. The "next" Yorkhouse Rd. is apt to turn up anywhere in the county. For householders who live near an open field, Son of Yorkhouse could be near their backyard.

VIEWPOINT To the end and beyond, teacher's life spelled joy

BILL SCHROEDER

Publisher

As a published poet, Ruth Penner's verse brought joy to untold thousands over the years. This Christmas, after her long life ended, scores of unfortunates will experience a happy holiday because of her generosity.

A former school teacher, Ruth and her husband, Gustav, a retired blacksmith, lived quietly and frugally, sharing their declining years in a plain two-bedroom home in Boesch Subdivision, Ingleside. After Gustav's death in 1982, Ruth shouldered alone the grief of the loss of their only child, Gustav Jr., who was killed in a car crash in 1974 at age 36.

Mrs. Penner died Jan. 10, 1994, at age 95. Because of a digestive ailment, she subsisted the last five years on baby food. As part of her will, she stipulated that the house and contents be turned over to Ingleside Methodist Church.

Appraisers determined the gift to be valued at $80,000. This followed an earlier bequeath to Grant Township of an island covering three acres off Fox Lake to be used as a nature preserve.

Before she became too frail, Mrs. Penner enjoyed playing the piano and tending her scrapbook of poetry clippings. Although she lived alone, Mrs. Penner relied on neighbors for errands and household chores. They were stunned to learn that her estate was closed with a gift of $425,000 to the Salvation Army.

Atty. Bill Churchill described the diminutive, soft-spoken woman as a "wonderful person." With no close relatives, she preferred a quiet lifestyle. Asked how Mrs. Penner accumulated the significant estate, Churchill explained that she spent little and invested well. Mrs. Penner chose the Salvation Army because she always was impressed with the organization's support for the needy. "She also chose the Salvation Army to receive her piano because she felt it would be useful for their 'song fests,'" Churchill noted.

A Salvation Army spokesman said that more than 90,000 needy persons in the Chicago area will be served with food and clothing during this holiday season. Ruth Penner's gift will be put to good use.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Call for separate board

Editor:

I dread it, but I'm expecting it: Yorkhouse Rd. may be extended through a famous important county forest preserve wetlands. This wetlands project has received funds from state and federal governments, not just county funds. These wetlands are in the front line of water purification, wildlife preservation and flood control researches.

The people in charge of these wetlands—the forest preserve commissioners—are working to stimulate county development as members of the Lake County Board. And the man in charge of those people seems to favor developments to the absolute maximum. He has so much power that on virtually every issue his fondest dreams are never set aside or thwarted, even when multiple county towns oppose him.

Who puts the land first? Lake County has over a half million people living here. Can't we get dedicated citizens to serve on a separate forest preserve board, which will prioritize the needs of the land? People who will have the power to stop the bulldozers when the forest preserves and wetlands need to be defended?

How do we implement setting up and electing a separate forest preserve commission? Let's do it now, before it's too late.

It may be efficient to have the same people act as Lake County Board members and Lake County Forest Preserve Commissioners, but I for one don't want to be efficient if it means going in a wrong direction. Only by having a balance of power between development and protection of the land can we preserve the beauty of Lake County.

Ecosystem endangered

Editor:

We, the students of Main South High School, a participating member of the Des Plaines River Student Alliance, oppose the extension of Yorkhouse Rd. We recognize this road as an unnecessary destruction of a valuable wetland and a threat to our future along the Des Plaines River.

While we live in Park Ridge, the management of the ecosystem of Lake County directly affects our community. The wetlands serve to slow flood waters further down river, where our school and homes are located. They work as sponges to absorb large amounts of rainwater, only if they are not filled or paved. We do not want to experience the floods of 1986 and 1987 again.

This destruction must stop. Our future is not in building roads which obliterate a sensitive ecosystem but in providing alternatives which will renew. See LETTERS page B9

-PARTY LINES-

Open space advocate Balen may launch comeback

Crain's Chicago Business has identified State Rep. Bob Churchill (R-Lake Villa) for "bad cop" duties in his prospective role as majority leader of the Illinois House of Representatives next year.

The "good cop," future House Speaker Lee Daniels (R-Elmhurst), according to the influential magazine, will be relying on Churchill, 47, to enforce party discipline on legislative votes.

Churchill, about to begin his seventh term, has maintained an alliance with Daniels almost from his first days in the General Assembly. No. 2 House Republican Churchill is seen as solidifying suburban dominance in the GOP-controlled House.

Good timing—Mary Ann Moore, administrative aide to outgoing State Sen. Grace Mary Stern (D-Highland Park), says it's a good thing Christmas is at hand. The former Lake County Democratic chairman explained that she'll go from cleaning out desks and packing boxes closing Stern's legislative office to wrapping gifts at her Libertyville home. Holiday festivities will take the edge off the sad ending of Stern's three-decade career in public office.

Come back—John Balen, a former county board chairman and stalwart leader of the Democratic bloc during the 1970s, is returning to politics. The one-time union official will be seeking the Democratic nomination for alderman in Waukegan's second ward in the February primary.

In talking about his comeback, Balen was his usual acerbic self, grumbling that the "Republicans are selling out Lake County to the developers." During his heyday, Balen was a staunch advocate of open space and protector of the environment. He led the way for formation of the Waukegan Green Belt as part of the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist.

Quotable—Credit former State Rep. John Matijevich (D-Waukegan) with a memorable line at the farewell party for former county clerk Linda Hess. "No one knows the loneliness of a Democrat running in Lake County," Matijevich intoned.

Whistle blowing causes stir—Matijevich Antioch Mayor Marilyn Shineflug and Lake Villa Mayor Frank Loffredo are attempting to arrange a meeting with Wisconsin Central officials to deter whistle blowing by trains in each of the villages. Both mayors have received complaints from residents who claim engineers are incessantly blowing the whistles. Both communities have decided against a whistle blowing ordinance because of liability concerns. Round Lake approved an ordinance outlawing whistle blowing last summer. Round Lake does have gates at each railroad crossing that is not the case in Lake Villa and Antioch.

Crossed out—Five years ago, Wauconda was forced to remove the crosses painted on its water towers in fear of a potential, costly lawsuit for crossing the lines of church and state. In defiance, residents and business owners have placed crosses on their private property each December. Wauconda Mayor James L. Eschenbach said he thinks a lot of residents would like to see the crosses back on the storage tanks. And thanks to the new Republican led Congress and new talk of prayer in school, Eschenbach said it might not be too long before they can put the crosses back where he believes they belong.

Depke Dinner—During a debate on the Yorkhouse Road extension, County Board Chairman Robert Depke was fending off accusations that his support for the project would help Midlane Country Club. Depke replied that his only affiliation with the country club is the occasional round of golf and dinner. To appease Yorkhouse Rd. opponents, Depke invited anyone who wants to eat dinner there for a one-time meal on his tab. "I can afford it," he said. Thanks, Bob. Party Lines just might take you up on that offer.

Speaker booker—North Shore resident David Decker, president of the Illinois Bar Association, was the power behind snagging both U.S. Sen. Carol Moseley-Braun and Illinois Supreme Court Justice James Heiple as speakers for the Bar's midyear meeting Dec. 8 and 9 in downtown Chicago.

Where's Mark—Mylith Park residents have banded together to fight flooding in the Slocum Lake community. The unincorporated residents are becoming educated and gaining the attention of elected and government officials throughout the county. According to organizers their County Board representative Mark Beaubien, Jr., however, has been unresponsive to phone calls soliciting his assistance.

Two-minute chair—County Board representative Larry Leafblad had the opportunity to sit in the chairman's seat during the reelection of Bob Depke as board chairman. After his election, Depke quipped, "Don't get used to it."

Roll call—When voting for chairman County Board representative Audrey Nixon of North Chicago called off her own name when voting for chairman. Colleagues responded with a laugh and said "that's not one of the choices, maybe next time."

Not a dry eye—There has been a reported outbreak of tears by county officials last week. The first official to be overcome with emotion was former County Board member Jim Fields. Fields became tearful during his last Forest Preserve meeting. County Board Chairman Robert Depke has also been reported in tears on two separate occasions. First, at the special call meeting, during his end of the year report. Depke was also overcome by emotion when he was reelected to the post of chairman on Monday.

Back balanced budget

Editor:

Late 1985 Congress passed the Gramm-Rudman Act, reducing the budget deficit yearly so that by 1991 it would reach zero. Two years later, it was amended to reach zero by 1993. The 1993 deficit was over $254 billion. Who thinks this Congress will do better?

If a balanced budget is passed, it should contain a provision—no more appropriations off budget.

New source for funds

Editor:

With the recent referendum defeats affecting so many school districts, it might behoove administrators and school boards to look elsewhere for funds. Here's one idea I came across while doing our grocery shopping.

General Mills has a program that pays cash for breakfast cereal UPC symbols. All it requires is asking community residents to collect and send UPC symbols to a designated school official who submits them in bulk to General Mills, for cash toward school equipment. Schools around the country are getting PC's, microscopes, parallel bars, Bunsen burners, etc., just by setting up such a program.

No one is required to change cereals, but with 34 participating brands included, chances are we have many families who regularly use some of them already.

I, for one, would be pleased to save our UPC symbols from the three brands we use. Wouldn't you? Is your school in on this tax reducing program? Shouldn't it be? I suggest we all ask.

Children hurt mentally

Editor:

I am writing to Round Lake teachers as a parent of a kindergarten student and third grader at Ellis School. I feel terrible for the children being stuck in the middle of this strike because a group of adults (so we thought you were adults) can't work together. But don't any of you care that it is the children you are hurting both educationally and, most of all, mentally? How about fighting this out on your own time, not on the children's time.

It infuriates me to see the teachers with their signs demanding respect, saying they live by it, and teach it and they deserve it. In the same breath, making abusive remarks in front of the children to the teachers crossing the picket line and the substitutes that have stepped in to help get the kids back in school. So tell me, where is the respect? The children are not seeing any respect on the part of the teachers.

My husband and I are trying to raise our kids to accept people for who they are, and then they see signs out in front of their school that say "Scabs Beware," and another that says "Friday—Turkey SUBS" and "Dumb Stix."

This strike is really beginning to do nothing but tear the kids up and anger the parents. If that was the school board's and union's intention, it worked—because nothing else has come out of this strike.

Bigger not better

Editor:

As a taxpayer in Woodland School Dist. 50, I am very concerned about our school board's unanimous decision to ratify a new three-year contract with teachers.

This contract provides teachers with a 7.5 percent pay increase the first year, 5 percent increase the second year and a 4.5 percent increase the third year. I think someone forgot to tell the school board our country is in the middle of an economic recession.

These types of salary increases are not being awarded in private industry today. Why has the Woodland School board agreed to give its teachers such large salary increases? School board president Margaret Breitzman stated this agreement is better than most in the area. What does she mean by this? Better for whom. The taxpayers? I don't think so.

Why does Breitzman compare Woodland to other school districts in the area. There are very few school districts in Lake County that are experiencing the growth in enrollment that Woodland has. If it hasn't already, this enrollment boom will eventually have a direct effect on the Woodland faculty. Do the over-crowded classrooms create additional classroom stress? Of course. Does this justify a 7.5 percent salary increase? Do you have stress on your job? Are you expecting a 7.5 salary increase next year?

What has caused the over-crowding in our schools? Maybe you read about Gurnee Village Administrator James Hayner, who boasts about the rapid growth in his town. Should all Gurnee residents feel proud that we have the largest number of housing starts in the civilized world? Let's not forget that Gurnee has the most fast-food places in the northern hemisphere, the largest discount mall in the world and a growing crime and traffic accident rate. Does this sound like something to be proud of?

WINTER WONDERLAND Lakeland Newspapers

Do you know what's life really like at the North Pole?

Santa Claus lives at the North Pole: We all know that. He lives there with his reindeer, his wife and a bunch of little people who make great toys.

He must be a pretty tough cookie, because life is rough at the North Pole. There are no trees or rocks or flowers there—just floating slabs of ice that slowly crunch together and break apart.

"The North Pole is basically water," says Norman Smith, professor of geology at the University of Illinois at Chicago. "It's located in the middle of the Arctic Ocean, which is more than two miles deep in some areas." At the North Pole, the ocean is covered with sea ice—shifting pieces of frozen salt water up to 20 feet thick.

The sun doesn't rise at the North Pole for half of the year—from around Sept. 23 (the fall equinox) to March 21 (the spring equinox). "There is one day and one night at the North Pole," says Smith, "and each one is six months long."

This is because of the tilt of the earth's axis. Like a bead spinning on a string, the earth spins around on its axis—an imaginary center line marked by the north and south poles. The earth's axis is tilted about 24 degrees from the vertical, so as the earth travels completely around the sun during the course of a year, that tilt affects how much sunlight hits the North Pole at any given time.

The North Pole is tipped out of the sun's reach for about half of the year. The fall equinox marks the point at which the North Pole begins to move out of the sun's reach—plunging the polar region into darkness for the next six months until the spring equinox, when it begins to move back into the sun's direct light.

All of this means that on Christmas

Day, it's dark at the North Pole—very dark. (Even Rudolph might have a hard time getting around).

If Santa made his home at the South Pole, life would be different. For one thing, his feet would be on solid ground—the continent of Antarctica. The sun would be high in the sky on Christmas Day because the seasons there are exactly the opposite of the North Pole, again due to the tilt of the earth. When it's dark at the North Pole, it's light at the South Pole.

Many scientists work in Antarctica during the period of sunlight, but not much research is ever done at the North Pole—mostly because it's in the middle of the ocean and is so difficult to get to.

Christmas safety tips from ComED

Many of us have hauled out the artificial Christmas tree or started the search for a natural tree. Before you begin stringing lights or hanging tinsel, consider a few precautions to ensure that the holiday season will be safe as well as bright and colorful.

For starters, it's always a good idea to inspect last year's lighting sets and discard any with damaged plugs or cords. Use only lighting sets and extension cords that carry the Underwriters' Laboratories (UL) label.

Keep tinsel away from electrical plugs and sockets. If you prefer a natural tree, be sure to water it frequently, and keep burning candles, smoking materials or other sources of ignition safely away.

If you're decorating outside, check to make sure the lighting sets are approved for outdoor use. And always maintain a safe distance from overhead electric lines or facilities, especially when using a metal ladder or tools.

Many of the younger family members will be receiving electrical toys for the first time, and proper handling can be a child's first experience with electrical safety.

Underwriters' Laboratories helps to ensure safety in toy construction as well as in lighting sets, extension cords and appliances.

The UL seal on an electrical toy shows that the item has been tested for the safety of its electrical parts. With various electrical toys, such as stoves and irons, children need adult supervision to learn to operate them safely.

North Shore Gas warns about 'con' operators

Now that the heating season is upon us, some homeowners may be approached by confidence operators stating they are gas company "inspectors." These impostors often gain access to a home under the pretense that they have been sent to inspect the gas meter or furnace, or the check for a gas leak, warns North Shore Gas.

"Our main concern is that these impostors, sometimes carrying fake utility I.D.'s, have been cheating our customers, often appearing in neighborhoods where our crews are working," says Frank L. Volante, manager of personnel, safety, and claim. "When our utility does repair work on appliances or pipes, employees never, under any circumstance, request or accept money from customers," he explains. "Charges for such services will appear later on gas bills." If someone identifies himself as a North Shore Gas employee, customers should ask to see the person's I.D. card before opening the door. If that person cannot produce a company-issued I.D. or if the card looks fake, customers are encouraged to call North Shore Gas at 336-9300 for verification.

'Journey to Bethlehem,' to re-create Christmas story

KEVIN HANRAHAN
Staff Reporter

About 1,994 years ago a Jewish husband and his expecting wife were drifting from town to town in search of a place to give birth to their child. The homeless couple was harassed by soldiers and tax collectors, and turned away by inn owners until finally they found a humble manger to give birth to their son in the hay among goats and camels.

Re-live the "Journey to Bethlehem" and experience the original Christmas story at Holy Cross Church in Libertyville Dec. 17 from 4 to 9 p.m. as participants actually travel the road to Bethlehem with family and guide. Sponsored by Lutheran Brotherhood and Aid Associations for Lutherans, Holy Cross is also teaming up with North Suburban Mennonite in Mundelein, St. Gilbert Church in Grayslake and Faith Lutheran Church in Lake Forest.

For the second consecutive year, Holy Cross is the site of the re-creation of the Christmas story as a benefit for Habitat for Humanity. Last year, more than 900 people made the journey, some from as far away as Iowa, Wisconsin and Indiana.

According to Holy Cross Pastor Robert Davis, it only seems fitting that there is a correlation between the Christmas story and Habitat for Humanity, as baby Jesus was born without a home.

"The journey serves a dual role: To remind people what the Christmas season is all about, but it also reminds people that there are brothers and sisters out there who are homeless," Davis said.

Habitat for Humanity Executive Director Julie Donovan added, "Just as Jesus came into this world, there are people in this world who do not have homes."

Habitat is an ecumenical housing ministry that builds homes using volunteer labor and donated material for families in need. Habitat for Humanity has built 10 homes in Waukegan, Zion and North Chicago and is in the process of building five more homes.

Groups of 10 to 15 people will begin the journey every 10 minutes. Participants stop at 12 scenes and meet shepherds on a hill, see the brilliant star, hear an angel choir, visit a Bethlehem market, pay taxes, are counted by Roman soldiers, are refused by an inn owner, see baby Jesus lying in the manger and welcome the three kings.

There are blacksmiths, butchers, weavers and potters as well as a cast of live animals including See CHRISTMAS page B13

'The Magic of the Nutcracker' to charm audiences

selection in September, the cast, which includes 170 Lake County residents, begins rehearsing immediately.

One of the most exhaustive auditions is for the feature roll of Clara. The part of Clara requires a dancer who has attained a certain level of technical expertise and sophistication. But the dancer selected to play Clara must also be able to act, to have good timing and good memory.

This year's Clara is Grace Helms of Libertyville, a sixth-grader at Oak Grove School. Helms has been studying ballet since age 5 and has dreamt of dancing the role of Clara ever since she first saw the production. Last year she came close, having understudied the role for Courtney Corbin of Gurnee. This year she will have two understudies, Corbin, and Elizabeth Lucente of Libertyville.

Other major roles include Justin Morris of Buffalo Grove as the Nutcracker Prince, Terence McEnroe of Ingleside plays the mystical Herr Drosselmeyer, Clara's beloved godfather. Amy Brandt of Libertyville will bedazzle the audience as the ethereal Sugar Plum Fairy performing the renowned Pas de deux with Yuri Nieldaszkowski of Argentina.

Other professional performers include Van Collins, a choreographer and performer from Chicago, and Christina Davenport, a former principal dancer with the Washington and Atlanta Ballet.

Lindell said she's extremely happy to have Yuri involved in the production. Yuri also teaches at Dancenter North. She said he has spent much time coaching the dancers in the difficult Pas de deux which is part of the Clara and Sugar Plum Fairy roles.

"Most major productions hire someone from New York. We want to do everything local. He coaches the young ballerinas so they're exquisite on stage. He really takes the time," said Lindell.

Lindell said staging of "The Magic of the Nutcracker" has remained fresh throughout the years with new dancers, dancers in new roles and different sets. Also this year, the snow scene and dolls will have new costumes. Even the choreography gets changed somewhat from year to year. Lindell recalled the building of the production.

"The first year, we didn't know if it would be accepted, so we did a shortened version. We saw the response and then we were able to build on it. The building became natural," said Lindell.

Lindell said staging a production of this magnitude is a mammoth effort, but it is also a cooperative effort.

"I am truly blessed to have Lisa Shepperd (choreographer) and Sissy De Prima (musical director and costume designer). If we didn't have that pool of talents, there wouldn't be a production," said Lindell.

Performances are Dec. 10, at 2 and 7:30 p.m.; Dec. 11, at 2 p.m.; Dec. 16, at 7:30 p.m.; Dec. 17, at 2 p.m.; and Dec. 18 at 2 p.m. Ticket prices range from $8 to $16 and may be purchased at Dancenter North, 540 N. Milwaukee Ave., Libertyville. For more information or to obtain a ticket order form call 367-7970.

Herr Drosselmeyer (Terence McEnroe) protects Clara (Grace Helms) from the dancing mice in Dancenter North's production of "The Magic of the Nutcracker" coming to Libertyville High School for six performances starting Dec. 10. Call 367-7970.

CLAUDIA M. LENART
Regional Editor

The magic continues as Dancenter North prepares to stage the story of Clara and her Nutcracker prince for the sixth season, Dec. 10 through Dec. 18, at Libertyville High School.

Audience members who follow Clara on her journey through the Snow Forest and the Kingdom of the Sweets can expect to experience some of that magic, said Cheri Lindell, Dancenter North executive director.

"I get to sit in the pit, direct and give cues. Every year when I'm sitting there, it is like magic. It makes you feel so good. Everybody feels the magic; that's why we called it 'The Magic of the Nutcracker,'" said Lindell.

But what goes into producing that magic is an extraordinary amount of planning and hard work.

Producing the ballet is a year-round process. Lindell is already ordering the sets for next year's production.

For the dancers, the process begins in August when Dancenter North students are selected for the performance practice program. Students in the class are eligible to audition for the "Magic of the Nutcracker." After

LIFE'S A BEAR

DONNA ABEAR

From devil dogs to kitty cut-ups

The Abear family has a new pet. He's a Silver Tabby kitten, and his name is ... Whiskers. I know, I know—that's about as original as naming a dog Rover, but it wasn't my choice. My 5-year-old son picked the name. After seeing the kitten for the first time, he said, "We'll name him Whiskers because he has whiskers." He was so pleased with being allowed to name the kitten that I didn't have the heart to tell him that all cats have whiskers, and the name stuck.

Still, you have to be careful what you name your pets. About a year ago, after losing a previous dog to cancer, we picked out a Shetland Sheepdog (we think), and as we drove home in the car with our new puppy, my son decided he wanted to name the dog after his grandma. So, we gave it the name "Corky." Big mistake—never name a dog after your mother-in-law. Shortly after naming it, the puppy woke from its nap, sat up in the car, looked at me and growled. Uh, oh.

It was all downhill after that. Not that I didn't try—as an animal lover, I've had pets all my life, but it soon became obvious that this dog had been the bully of her litter, and intended to retain that position at all costs. After eight months without underwear (Corky's favorite meal), several hundred dollars worth of doggy vandalism throughout the house, and innumerable "presents" on my living room rug despite 15-20 trips a day outdoors, not to mention the fact that you could not come within three feet of that dog if she had so much as a chew toy in her mouth (unless you wanted a tattoo of her teeth on your hand), we finally put an ad in the paper and said goodbye to Corky, the devil dog. We hope her new owners had more luck.

After that experience, we chose to be "petless" for a while, but soon the children and I got that urge again for a furry, four-legged friend. We decided that a kitten might be a better choice, despite the fact that my husband is not a cat-lover. I assured him that cats make easy-to-care-for pets, and that he would come to love Whiskers once he got used to him. Best of all, his underwear would be safe.

Of course, as pets, cats are quite different from dogs. They can be affectionate and loving, too, but on their own terms. Folks who've never owned a cat find that hard to understand—they usually describe cats as "sneaky." I really don't think cats are "sneaky," although I did have a Siamese cat named Barney once who was something of a practical joker.

I had gone out for the evening, and forgotten to leave any lights on in the house. When I got home, I walked into the kitchen in the dark, thinking I'd just flip on the light switch on the other wall. Suddenly, my feet went flying out from under me, and I landed on the floor with a thud in a puddle of something very slimy and slippery. As I lay there, wondering what kind of horrible stuff I was laying in, Barney, who must have been watching the entire incident with quiet glee, leaped down from his perch on the refrigerator, sauntered calmly across my chest, and then ran like the devil out of the room.

When I finally got up and turned on the light, I found that Barney had knocked over a coffee can full of grease that I kept on top of the refrigerator. Luckily for Barney, he was smart enough to hide for the rest of the evening.

With these stories in mind, and considering that I always try to learn from the past, I have decided to make only two requests of our new kitten—1. No practical jokes and 2. Keep your claws off the underwear.

Cooking by the Book

Warm up to hearty winter soup

"Vegetarian Four Seasons" by British food writer Rose Elliot (Random House, $18), takes readers on a cook's tour that perfectly matches the changing seasons.

Besides plenty of usable recipes, this slick soft-bound book is filled with page after page of appetite-enticing four-color photographs and illustrations. (And with the ready availability of fresh produce, you may not want to wait until spring to try the mango and cardamon parfait).

Elliot is also well prepared for winter's onslaught with a number of satisfying soups, a vegetable goulash and some hearty pasta dishes. Here's one that's full of flavor but easy to fix.

White Winter Soup with Sun-Dried Tomato Purée

8 oz. celery root
8 oz. turnips
8 oz. leeks, white part only
1 T. light olive oil
Sprig of fresh thyme
4 T. light cream
Salt and freshly ground black pepper
4 tsp. sun-dried tomato purée

Peel the celery root and turnips and cut them into even sized pieces; trim, wash and slice the leeks.

Heat the oil in a large saucepan and put in the vegetables and thyme. Cook the vegetables, with a lid on the pan, for about 10 minutes, then add 3 3/4 cups of water. Bring to a boil, turn down the heat and leave the soup to simmer for about 30 minutes, or until the vegetables are very tender.

Remove the thyme, purée a ladleful of the soup in a blender with the cream, then add this to the rest of the soup.

Season the soup with salt and pepper, reheat gently, and serve into warmed bowls. Top each with a swirl of sun-dried tomato purée. Serves four.—by TOM WITOM

Horoscope

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) The beginning of the week is right for romance. Later on, you'll be engrossed in a study or research project. You'll also receive some good news about a financial matter you've been considering. Seek advice on this.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You may volunteer for a club assignment or group activity. Talks with friends are serious and down-to-earth. You may feel uncomfortable with co-workers who are at odds with each other. Try not to get involved. Socializing is a plus this weekend.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) You'll tackle a business problem head-on this week. Talks with higher-ups are productive. You may be in line for a promotion, prestige and a raise in salary. However, avoid being overly confident as this puts people off.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Your social graces are an asset in business this week. Partners may not agree about a certain domestic concern. Look for the middle ground here so you can reach a comfortable compromise. News comes from afar.

duty record-keeping. Work is uneventful but productive. Problems relating to finances could be upsetting this week but soon pass.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) A difficult work assignment carried out by you is soon followed by a superb career offer. You may not get as much time for yourself as you'd like this week. A financial development is positive.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) You may not be pleased with changes in business plans now, but be flexible. Because you have other things on your mind, you may not be at your best at a social gathering. Concerns relating to family take priority.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Serious talks this week pertain to family concerns. Travel plans are not solidified yet. Problems at home keep you preoccupied and may get in the way of job accomplishment. Avoid arguments.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Serious intellectual work is favored this week. You may not be ready to make up your mind about a financial matter. Through friends you'll meet with new social opportunities. Social life this weekend is pleasant.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) An overdue account should be paid now. This week's business developments will put you in a better position financially. There may be an inclination to quarrel this week where money is concerned.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) You'll have new insights about yourself this week. At work, you may run into a few stumbling blocks early in the week. At home, your mind is made up and it may be difficult to see the other person's point of view. Seek compromises.

A Visit to Hawaii Must Include Pearl Harbor

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

December 7, 1941, is a date forever etched in the minds of most Americans. At one minute before 8 a.m., a battle began which left 3,581 Americans dead or wounded and sent six of our country's mightiest ships to the bottom of Pearl Harbor.

One of those ships, the USS Arizona, became the final resting place for 1,100 of her crew.

A memorial has been built across the Arizona to honor those still entombed in the sunken hull below. The shrine is visited by thousands of Americans, including many survivors of the battle marking the U.S. entry into World War II.

If you are planning a trip to Hawaii, you too may wish to visit the Arizona Memorial. You will find many tours offering such a visit. However, the only boat allowed to dock at the memorial is operated by the Navy. That shuttle, as well as entrance to the memorial and visitor center, is free.

If you have rented a car, take Rte. 99 to the entrance to Pearl Harbor along Rte. 99 about a mile south of Aloha Stadium. The parking area for the Arizona Memorial boat shuttle is well marked.

You can also take "The Bus" (literally the name of Hawaii's transit system) nos. 50, 51 and 52 from the Ala Moana Shopping Center to within walking distance of the entrance.

A more convenient alternative for getting to the shuttle dock is the Arizona Memorial Shuttle Bus, a private operation which will pick you up at your hotel and take you to the dock for $2.50 one way. Reservations are needed. Call them in Honolulu at 926-4747. No reservation is required for the return trip. Just get your ticket from Gloria, the lady under the green umbrella in the parking lot.

The memorial is open daily, except Monday, from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m., though I would suggest getting there no later than 9:30 a.m. to avoid a long wait. The shuttle boats won't sail if the waves are too rough, so call ahead. In Honolulu call 422-0561.

"We see it as a nice spiritual event in the community for families," Davis said. "It really creates what life was like in Bethlehem."

For a half-hour journey, participants donate a free-will offering which benefits Habitat for Humanity. Afterwards, refreshments will be served inside Holy Cross Church.

"It allows us to let people know about Habitat, and it helps us spread the word about what we're up to," Donovan noted.

Said Davis, "It really is a way to bring alive the Christmas and Gospel story and gives whole families a chance to participate."

—CRITIC'S CHOICE— 'Christmas Carol' is still a joy

Ebenezer Scrooge (Tom Mula) allows Bob Cratchit (Paul Amandes) to add the smallest piece of coal to the stove in "A Christmas Carol."

The Goodman Theatre in Chicago has established a tradition, now going on 17 years, in presenting "A Christmas Carol."

And for many, the holidays would not be the same without their annual dose of Charles Dickens' glorious tale of transformation.

The current production, directed by Chuck Smith, features the theater's by now familiar roll-away sets, special effects and appealing costuming.

It also has a solid cast, including several who are reprising their roles from previous seasons.

Waukegan Historical Society sets open house

Haines Museum, home of the Waukegan Historical Society will be open from 1 to 5 p.m. on Sunday, Dec. 11 when the Society hosts their annual holiday open house celebration. The museum, which is undergoing extensive restoration, will be transformed for the winter season.

Decorated trees from the elegant Victorian beauty to one that reflects the 20th century decorations so many remember from their own family holidays will be on display.

A magnificent one-of-a-kind dollhouse that stands over five feet tall will be on exhibit. The dollhouse has not been on exhibit outside of Waukegan owner Marlene Graham's home since 1936.

There will be a few rare, collectible electric trains running under one tree and a special exhibit of holiday ornaments in the museum display room.

The Waukegan Andrew Cooke Magnet School Singers will perform at 2 p.m. This event is offered free of charge.

For more information, call 336-1859.

Scouts hold Christmas tree, holiday wreath sale

The Scout and Youth Organizations of St. Andrew's Lutheran Church, 10 S. Lake St., Mundelein, will be holding their annual Christmas tree and wreath sale until Dec. 17. The lot will be open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily.

This year's trees are from a new supplier and more varieties will be available. Prices range from $20 to $60. All proceeds from the sale go to support the yearly activities of the Scout and Youth programs at St. Andrew's and a portion of your purchase qualifies as a contribution to a charitable organization.

Back again is Tom Mula as the penny-pinching Ebenezer Scrooge; Paul Amandes as the doggedly loyal and kind-hearted Bob Cratchit, and Jaye Tyrone Stewart as the effervescent Ghost of Christmas Present.

A change in casting finds Bradley Mott as the new Mr. Fezziwig, Scrooge's good-natured, if somewhat bumbling first employer. Affable Mott makes the grade.

The troubled spirit of Jacob Marley, a former partner, comes to haunt Scrooge on Christmas Eve, heralding visits from the Spirits of Christmas Past, Present and Yet to Come. Through their eye-opening efforts, Scrooge gradually comes to recognize the emptiness of his life. He has material wealth, but no one with whom to share it.

What a joy it is to witness Scrooge's painful but liberating journey of self-discovery. "A Christmas Carol" runs through Dec. 30.—by TOM WITOM

'Santa Clause' box-office draw but it's no Christmas classic

Eric Lloyd and Tim Allen in "The Santa Clause"

When someone's on a roll, as in the famous fable, it seems that everything they touch turns into gold.

Thus "The Santa Clause," which was the top box-office draw over the Thanksgiving weekend, should make a good buck, because TV's Tim Allen is its star.

Of course, anything with that title draws the family audience at this time of the year anyway, regardless of content.

"Santa" is a very mediocre film about a "Grinchy," "Bah Humbug!" kind of divorced dad, played by the "Home Improvement" mega star, who is forced to take over Santa's seasonal delivery job.

He wants to take his son Charlie, played by Eric Lloyd, along for the sleigh ride, but has some trouble convincing his former wife, played by Wendy Crewson, and Charlie's new stepdad, played by a stuffy Judge Reinhold, that he really is the famous jolly fat man.

Here we come across a modern phenomenon when we see a normally extremely irresponsible father become top dog in his kid's eyes because of the Santa caper, while the day-to-day caring Mom becomes the heavy.

Allen's character is a cross between his stand-up comedy persona and the toolman, a delivery those who don't believe in arguing with success won't knock.

Although this film merits only a 2.5 out of a five star rating, just because of its subject matter, like the many versions of "Christmas In Connecticut," it'll return on TV every Christmas to haunt us for many years, not to mention the additional buckaroos to be garnered in the repeat video market.

All in all, the younger kids will probably like this Disney Production, that is of course rated PG, and that ain't all bad.—

Fresh seafood at Family Fishery

You couldn't get your fish any fresher at Family Fishery than if you went out and caught it yourself! That's just one of the things that makes Family Fishery stand out, according to owner Tom Muraski. Muraski is no stranger to the restaurant business, having started out in 1978 with the Family Fish House in Mundelein. Muraski moved on to work for a friend at Don's Dock in Des Plaines, but in May of 1994, established himself once again in Mundelein with Family Fishery.

Seafood lovers have quite a variety to choose from at Family Fishery, including appetizers like cheese sticks, chicken tenderloins, onion rings, and fried mushrooms and zucchini. Entree items offer a wide range of fresh seafood to choose from, for dine-in and carry-out. Whether your taste swings toward shrimp, perch, whitefish, orange roughy, salmon, sole, flounder, crab, or lobster, your appetite will definitely be satisfied.

Family Fishery receives daily shipments of fresh fish from three different purveyors. Enjoy daily lunch and dinner specials (includes fries, cole slaw, and sauce), along with seafood specialties like stuffed sole and flounder, deep fried or baked crab cakes and deviled crab. Popular items are the poached North Atlantic Salmon and New England clam chowder served inside a delicious half-pound of sourdough bread, delivered fresh from Boudin's, the world renowned bakery located on Fisherman's Wharf in San Francisco.

During the holiday season, Family Fishery's domestic Gulf Shrimp is available for carry-out to enhance your holiday get-togethers. You can also choose from an array of side items from their fresh deli case like seafood salad, crab and shrimp pasta, potato salad, cole slaw, and macaroni salad. Also available are tossed salads, plain or with crab or shrimp included. Family Fishery even makes their own shrimp, tartar, and other sauces.

Family Fishery also offers rotisserie chicken for non-seafood eaters. Whether you want your selection for dining-in, carry-out, frozen, or fresh by the pound (so you can cook it at home), Family Fishery is the place to go! Stop by to take a look at the wide variety of deep fried, baked, steamed, and poached fresh fish available at their location in Mundelein at 412 N. Lake St. (two doors down from Walgreen's), or pre-order by calling 566-2580.

WHERE TO EAT OUT

FEATURE OF THE WEEK

Enjoy New Year's Eve at Sabatini's Restaurant & Frigate Lounge

Enjoy your New Year's Eve by joining the Sabatini family at Sabatini's Restaurant & Frigate Lounge, where they've incorporated a new menu with a wide variety of Italian specialties along with steaks, ribs, and fresh fish. December marks the restaurant's 48th anniversary, and they will be celebrating throughout the month.

Singer and keyboardist "Andriana" will be featured from 5 to 9 p.m. on New Year's Eve, providing musical accompaniment to complement your meal. There will also be a D.J. beginning at 9 p.m. for your dancing enjoyment. Dinners range from $8.95 to $14.95, and include appetizer, salad, potato, and vegetable.

The Sabatinis have been established in the restaurant business since 1947, and includes three generations. As Ralph Sabatini stated, "You'll always find a Sabatini on the premises!" Even the chef, Ralph Rossi, is a cousin hailing from Italy. And at Sabatini's Restaurant & Frigate Lounge, you can be assured that the Sabatinis are committed to your dining satisfaction and enjoyment.

Diners will enjoy the many specials offered, including the Friday Fish Fry and Pasta Buffet, prepared fresh in front of the customer, for only $7.95. Sunday's Champagne Brunch is also popular at $7.95 for adults, $6.95 for senior citizens, and children under six are free. Brunch, offered from 9:30 a.m. to 2 p.m., features homemade pastries and pastas, with unlimited champagne.

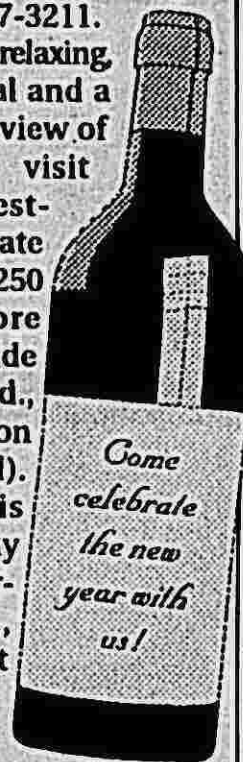

Senior Citizens will enjoy the Senior Specials offered on Mondays and Tuesdays. For those over 55, get a complete dinner with a cocktail for only $5.95. The rotating menu always features something delicious! Wednesday brings the All-You-Can-Eat Fish Fry for $5.95, seniors $4.95, and Thursday is Steak Night. Get prime aged meats like T-Bone, Butt Steak, or New York Strip steak for only $9.95, including soup, salad, and potato.

Sabatini's Restaurant & Frigate Lounge also has banquet facilities that can accommodate up to 200 people, and still has some holiday dates open. To reserve a date, call Ralph Sabatini at 587-3211.

To enjoy a relaxing, delicious meal and a breathtaking view of Long Lake, visit Sabatini's Restaurant & Frigate Lounge at 25250 W. Lake Shore Dr., in Ingleside (on Rollins Rd., between Wilson and Fairfield). The Frigate is open Monday through Saturday at 4 p.m., and Sunday at 9:30 a.m.

This is about 'Ganged up on.' It is about the Mexican gangs in Round Lake. You should take a look at the front page.

Paid time

This is in response to 'Hard time.' If this housewife/mother/worker believes teachers get paid a lot more than she does it is because she has not had near as much college education. If she also thinks Institute Day is a teacher's day off, she needs to get down to the school and find out what is going on. Teacher's work very hard on that day to make school a better place for her children.

Enough already

I am a taxpayer, parent and school district employee in Round Lake Beach. Why did the mayor put his name on a mailing with a reprint from a 1973 'Forbes' article? It basically blames all faults of the education system in this country on the NEA. Did the mayor's staff do this at taxpayer's expense? I counted on our mayor to represent all the people of Round Lake Beach. I am at least offended for him to send out right wing propaganda like some alien beings have invaded my brains cells. I was intelligent to be hired by Round Lake School District 116 and I believe I am bright enough to stand for my convictions. I believe those convictions will go on in the future in Round Lake. I want your kids back in school, but not at the sacrifice of the dedicated professionals who were forced by the ignorant attitudes and egos in this community to say enough is enough.

Hat trick

I am calling in response to the wife/mother in the work force. Not only did you choose your career, you did not choose to teach. Speaking as teacher, wife and a mother, my day begins at 5 a.m. and ends at 12 midnight. I spend my seven-day week preparing for my classes, and taking care of my family in addition to attending graduate school. Educators are not paid for summer vacation; institute days are not holidays. In venting your anger, you have also displayed your ignorance of a job you have never held.

Car return

This is to the woman trying to get her car back. You can file an action in court called a replevin action. The clerk of court in Waukegan will give you the forms. It will cost you $114 to file the action. On the complaint, all you need to do is list the value of the car and give a description of it including the VIN. A judge can give you an order to go get the car without giving notice to the person who has the car. You should then hold the car in your possession. You may have a hearing at a later time for the other person to tell why they should have the car. Any attorney worth their salt can help you do this. I am an attorney and I don't charge an arm and a leg, though some of them would. Go to room C150 at 20 South County St. Good luck.

Dead end

A major portion of the traffic jams on Rte. 176 at rush hour time between Lamb's Farm and downtown Libertyville can be blamed on the fact that the Village of Green Oaks closed Rockland Rd. with a big dirt pile where it intersects with Rte. 176. It is impossible for people who live in Libertyville to veer off of Rte. 176 down Rockland Rd. On what authority has the Village of Green Oaks done this crazy deed? This was an alternate road to Rte. 176. It goes to residential areas and they have managed to turn their street into a dead end. If any body had guts they would sue Green Oaks. Mettawa lost a similar case when they wanted to close Bradley Rd. Rockland Rd. has been in service for over 100 years and they have no right to close it.

Social studies

This is regards to the call that was proud of Spanish. It was obvious they were responding to my criticism that people with a Spanish background have a great tendency to speak Spanish in public rather than speaking English. First of all, Mexico is not part of the United States and if you had taken time to study your citizenship since you have been living in this country, you would know it is not part of America. It is part of North America. I have nothing against you speaking Spanish in your own home. The language of the United States is the Americanized version of English. It is rude for you to be speaking in another tongue. If you don't like our attitude about Spanish, then go back home. We are losing enough jobs to illegal aliens. Go home them come back legally if you're ready to act like Americans.

Union break

I am an ex-school board member. Someone called in about getting the facts about the Round Lake strike. In it they said the teachers who have bachelors degree to get their masters degree. I have seen many of these contracts from various districts. They all say they are the lowest paid by comparing themselves to other districts. The next school that will go on strike will be Antioch High School. I think they are waiting to see what happens with Round Lake so they can go back to their school board and say they are the lowest paid. There is so much baloney going on out there regarding these strikes. This deal about the teachers taking extra classes to get their masters degree is true, but the taxpayers are paying for it. Teachers are getting reimbursed for this extra education they take on. By getting reimbursed and getting a higher degree, they are now eligible for a better salary. Teachers have made a bad name for themselves. Anyone can file a Freedom of Information Act form and get a copy of any teacher's contract. That will tell the facts about what the board is dealing with. I commend the Round Lake School board and what they are trying to do. It is a volunteer job and they are being beat on in the negotiations. I hope they can stand firm and break the union.

School names

I've been a resident of Island Lake for nearly 50 years. It is ridiculous that Island Lake and Wauconda have a disagreement about naming a school. It has always been like this. If a school is to be named, it should be named after the town the tax money was produced from.

Let them paint

I think it is time the teachers wake up and realize if they are not happy they can get a job somewhere else. A Lipservice call says teachers are making less than painters. Let them go paint. It is up to them. See LIPSERVICE page B22

Salary adjustment

Round Lake Schools were rated in a newspaper article as among the worst in Lake County. Perhaps we should adjust the teacher's salaries to be commensurate with this rating.

House guests

Did I miss the beat somewhere? I did not realize that illegal aliens or convicted felons serving time had the same rights as tax paying citizens. I majored in the Spanish language in 1943 long before it became an issue. My beloved son-in-law is Puerto Rican. You don't get much more Spanish than that. So forget trying to label me as anti-Hispanic. He is more vocal about the prevailing Spanish attitude than any of your Upservice callers. Forget legal rights or social spite. Just remember the good manners our parents tried to teach us. You don't go into some one's home and take over and break the rules. You respect the owner of the house, including his flag and his language. Comprene?

Stop coddling

This is in regards to speak the language. My parents came here from Sweden and there was not one bilingual thing here for them. Not only did they have to work their butts off to make a living in this country, they had to learn English as well. I say it is time we stop coddling these babies from other countries. If they come here from other countries and expect us to print everything in their language, then why do they come here? If you don't like learning the language and living amongst the people, then get out.

Animal bounds

The roads, sidewalks and trees are not for our dogs to use the bathroom. If you have a dog, you should be responsible. Use your own property for the animal.

Which Round Lake?

This is in reference to the unpaved parking lot in Round Lake. It is in Round Lake Beach. Also, I like to respond to "Ganged up" about the Mexican gangs. They are in Round Lake. Round Lake takes the brunt of everything. I doubt Round Lake cops are wimps.

Stretch handicap

Evidently, the driver of a stretch limousine could not read a handicapped parking sign at a restaurant in Mundelein. Many handicapped people including me found it difficult to get in and find a place to park. Drop those people off and find some place else to park.

Union Hitlers

Round Lake Park is the testing ground for the NEA's greed. Using our children as blackmail, they think they can get the respect that eluded them in the real world of business. They brag of their advanced degrees and how they could have amassed fortunes if only they would have chosen a job in the private sector. The reality is they could never earn what they are gaining from this extortion. The world of business was too much and ground them into competitive mush instead of running coward to their ridiculous demands. They were probably out before they were in. Let's trade these babies for the teachers of Chicago's south side. Those teachers walked out because their schools were not heated. Also, too many of their children were bitten by rats. Of course, it would mean taking some concessions, like taking a 50 percent cut in health benefits, risking a drive-by shooting weekly, taking a starting salary of $15,000 with overtime. These Chicago heroes are to be respected and honored. They would be disgusted to learn that 150 conditions to negotiate even existed. The NEA uses our children as weapons to steal what they cannot earn in the real world. They say our children belong to them already. Their attitude is mindful of Hitler's.

Social illiterate

I thought the letter from the Round Lake Park teacher regarding the school board's plan to develop curriculum was really interesting. I have no doubt that teachers have training that board members don't. However, the true measure here is what the students are learning. One caller moaned that she must tutor her 21 and 22-year-old Round Lake graduates in the basics. I am sure those same children learned a lot in school, such as to value deviant lifestyles and bizarre cultures such as our own. They learned all about birth control and how to put on condoms along with how to have sex and enjoy it more. Don't be deceived parents, the experts intended this result. They are more interested in social engineering than in teaching the basics. The Round Lake School board appears to have learned about that. They might be mere parents, but they have the right to teach their children solid values without the interference of teachers, as well as have literate children.

Union hostages

I am a teacher in Round Lake School

District. I want the citizens to know the school board has done and is still doing an excellent job. Neither the teachers nor the school board wanted this strike. The upper echelon of the union had different ideas and they are the ones who are holding up the settlement. The only ones that need to be voted out are the union officials who are holding everyone hostage including the people they are supposed to be representing. I want the kids back in school. Come on, enough is enough. See LIPSERVICE page B23

GOING OUT OF BUSINESS

Dear Friends,

This is not the easiest letter for me to write, because it is actually to say Goodbye. After 70 years, Henderson's Jewelry is about to go out of business. As a result, Wednesday, November 16 will mark the kickoff of a brief Going out of Business sale. Everything must go, including the entire inventory of fine diamonds.

I would like to retire. My intent was to sell the store as a going business, but I could not find anyone who would continue the business' fine reputation and ethical practice. I have made the decision to close the doors forever.

I am particularly grateful to all of you for having made my years in business so pleasant and successful. I look forward to seeing you and to servicing you in the remaining days here at the store.

*Sincerely,
Bob Henderson*

IT'S THE TALK OF THE TOWN

GET IT OFF YOUR CHEST (708) 223-8073

Lakeland Newspapers

Banish MTV

This is in response to 'For censorship.' I agree completely. I wish they would take MTV off the air forever.

Step in my shoes

This is in answer to all the people in the Round Lake Area who think their teachers are underpaid. Let's see them survive on $17,000 per year, no medical insurance, and working 365 days per year. I live this way. Let them step into my shoes for a day a see if they think they are underpaid.

Look both ways

I don't have any kids in school and I don't care if the teachers are on strike, but I think it would be nice if those on strike would look both ways when they cross the street. I have almost hit three of them who seem to wander across the street. My mommy told me to look both ways when I was 5 years old.

Unpatriotic

I have a big beef in Island Lake. You can live here for several years and don't have to buy a vehicle tax sticker if you park on the other side of the street. You can have boats and engine mounts in your house and no one makes you remove them. These people who fly flags and can't take it down at night should put a spotlight on them. That is so unpatriotic, to leave them up after dark.

Join Salvi

I live in Lake Villa Township in Round Lake Beach and I am so upset the teachers' strike has gone on this long. It seems that no one is willing to stand up and end the strike except for Al Salvi. He wanted to end the strike for the kids. But, unfortunately I live in Lake Villa and I am in Bob Churchill's district. Why won't anyone besides Al Salvi come out and take a stand? Where is everyone?

Union goons

I would like to take the time in the spirit of Thanksgiving to thank the Round Lake School board members for taking the time to protect the taxpayers of the school district. Thank you again and again for a job well done. Don't let those union goons destroy what you have worked so hard for this community.

Lock them up

Teachers, administrators and parents: all this energy spent accusing and defending seems a terrible example to the children you are supposed to serve. Suggestions and solutions are to be focused on. All parties in this dispute should be locked in a room until results are achieved. How can you treat the parents that pay you and the students you serve like this? If we were to apply corporal punishment, you would be spanked for every day you are out. Shame on you.

NEA blasting

I read an article where Al Salvi blasts the NEA and the teachers union for playing politics with our kids. It is about time Al Salvi has the courage to say what so many of us think.

Present time?

In the light of the inconvenient time set for Halloween trick or treating when most people aren't even home yet, can someone let us know what time Christmas will be? I am new to the area and want to know when we should open presents.

Having a ball

I am a resident of Deer Pointe Trails in Hainesville. There have been many noisy parties. One went until 1 a.m. I know Softball City was here long before I moved here, but we were promised they always quit doing business at 11 p.m. That is not the case. The law in Hainesville looks the other way when it comes to Softball City. That is not fair to Hainesville residents.

Frozen stiff

The cold weather is coming and I have been thinking about that poor golden retriever near Grand Ave. and Fairfield Rd. Who are the Neanderthals who care for it? Last year it was 20 degrees below zero and the poor dog has been tied to a cable all of his life. Why do people have children and animals only to keep them as slaves? Someone should contact these people and train them to take care of animals.

Grayslake invader

I am a second generation American and a two-year Grayslake resident. I think I pay taxes on my $200,000 home, which is 2 miles from the train tracks. I would like to direct this question to the 'original' citizens in Grayslake. When do I get the right to say I am a citizen and when do I get the right to voice my opinion about what affects me in Grayslake? I know I legally became a Grayslake resident when I bought a home, registered to vote and paid my taxes, but I have received the impression that I cannot voice my opinion about anything because I am an invader. Signed: I love Chicago.

Native to America

This is in response to the 'New minority' call. I am part Native American. Most of us that are second and third generation are native. Our grandparents came over here, but they came over legally. That is not something our illegal aliens primar-ly from the south can say. You may think you will become the majority but once something like Proposition 187 passes, there will be a flood back to your homeland.

Lucrative savings

Why is the Round Lake Heights Village Clerk saying she is trying to save the taxpayers money when she got a $7 per hour raise, making her paycheck three times as high as the previous village clerk. She says she is trying to save money? Don't make me laugh.

Another right nut

This is in response to right wing nuts. Mayor Davis attended Round Lake Schools all his life. He taught at Round Lake Schools. He also sat on the board of education. Because of Mayor Davis, the teachers have criminal checks. I am one of those right wing nuts. Remember Sodom and Gomorra. God destroyed them for lack of morals and values. This country is headed in that direction.

Job application

This is America. In America, the best people get the best jobs. I want to apply for a teachers' position in Round Lake Area School District 116.

Beautiful Lipservice

I am a home subscriber to the newspaper and thoroughly enjoy Lipservice. I would appreciate the call entitled 'Beautiful within'. I would appreciate if the newspaper would put in the poem 'The Cold Within' by James Patrick Kinney into the south zone papers. Instead of just Antioch. It sounds like it is very interesting. We need beauty within. Lipservice is doing a beautiful job. Could you print it in Lipservice? I am sure we would all appreciate it.

Lack of income

I just read in the newspapers that the teachers are whining and complaining they have no income because of their strike. We did not ask for them to go on strike. We did not ask them to do this to our kids. We don't need to hear them whine. I just filed bankruptcy because I lost a job. It was because of a layoff after seven years of working there, not because I wanted to lose it. No one gives me free food for Thanksgiving. They should get their butts back to work or get a job somewhere else that will pay them ridiculous wages.

My body first

This is about the call entitled 'Pro abortion.' Government should not regulate what a person should do with their body and that is why I am pro-choice. My body is my body and it comes first. A fetus is not a baby at that point. Every woman must make that choice by herself. For all the women who think they have a choice in that state, if you want to get an abortion and you are married, you have to get your husband's permission. Do men own us now? Let's get together and conquer this. We should not need permission. Husbands cannot control our bodies. You anti-abortionists are trying to save all these little fetuses being aborted each year, but what are you doing for the children that are already born? The people that agree with less taxes and no welfare won't know what to do with a million more children. Let's worry about the children who are here and not what women do with their bodies.

Barring police

Why don't the Fox Lake police wear name tags? Why doesn't the chief enforce that policy? Why is a bar in town able to stay open past 3 a.m., often until 5 a.m.? Is it because there is police money in that bar?

Long distance switches up

CHICAGO—Slamming is sweeping the country, and it is frustrating and costly for consumers. Slamming is a practice where consumers are switched from their long-distance company without their knowledge or consent, and it is a growing problem. In fact, AT&T believes the number of consumers slammed every month is in the tens of thousands, with a disproportionate amount of slamming taking place in the ethnic communities. And the Federal Communications Commission has received thousands of complaints from ethnic consumers. Consumers who want to be sure they are currently subscribed to the long-distance company of their choice can call 1-700-555-4141 for verification from the phone they are checking. In addition, consumers also should check their bill each month to ensure they are being served by the long-distance company they selected.

LowDoc program grows

LAKE COUNTY—The application for an SBA Low Documentation loan has been streamlined into a single page or two, although supporting documents also are required. Designed to help minority and women-owned businesses, the LowDoc program has proven a boon to the overall small business marketplace. In just the program's first three months, 181 LowDoc loans totaling $10 million were approved in Illinois alone. In October and November, that number swelled by 260 loans, bringing a six-month total to $25 million.

Eatery brings California style to taste buds

NEAL TUCKER
Staff Reporter

Anyone from the midwest who has traveled to the west coast knows geography is not the only thing that separates the two regions. When talking specifically about California—the cultural icon of that area—travelers know it is an entirely different world.

With the culinary delights offered at Redwood's California Grille in Mundelein, one can tell the cuisine is from a different world as well. Prepared by executive chef and partner Tom Severs, an honors graduate from the highly regarded Culinary Institute of America in New York, one can savor the flavors of sautéed medallions of pork to turkey mignon. In fact, the entire menu deviates greatly from standard steak and potatoes fare.

"California style cooking is taking basic food groups and being creative in presentation and preparation," said Severs.

"All of what we've done creatively was evolved from the master chefs," Severs said.

Severs said France was long known as the world leader in the evolution of cuisine and great wines. Then, sometime during the early 1970's to today, a culinary movement began to grow in California. California is now considered at the forefront of both the best in wine and cuisine.

Severs said one of the many good things that has come from the California success is that there are many great everyday wines on the market. Severs' restaurant sells bottles at prices that are competitive to liquor. See EATERY page C3

Volo helps with cabin fever

Despite what you may think, the winter time is very good for shopping.

At least at the Old Volo Village mall of shops the holiday season is one of their best. When the weather gets cold, people get cabin fever, and want to go out, explained proprietor Bill Grams. Often that means a trip to his shops.

The group of specialty stores and unique services in mall totals well over a hundred, giving everyone something fun to do.

A new mall brings the total of antique dealers in Old Volo Village to 125. There's also a furniture store, a restaurant and a jewelry store.

Also at the site is the Volo Antique Auto Museum, known countrywide for their annual auto auctions, and unique collector cars. The auto museum is open year round from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., closed on Christmas Day, but open on New Year's Day!

Teresa's Filling station restaurant is open seven days a week to feed hungry shoppers.

In the new mall, Grams said visitors may see W.C. Fields, and Laurel and Hardy when they view the old-time movies being played.

Christmas decorations are sparkling all over Old Volo Village, including two trees donated by the Volo Garden Corner nursery. The nursery was kind enough by offering everyone in the town free trees so they could participate in the decorating contest in Volo.—by TINA SWIECH

Christmas retail rush

Gurnee Mills Mall is just one of the Lake County shopping centers experiencing the Christmas rush of retail shoppers. Spending of Christmas dollars is up roughly 6 percent nationally over the same period last year. Surveys conducted by Gurnee Mills indicate 29 percent of Chicago area shoppers plan to spend more for Christmas than last year, up from only 15 percent for the prior year.—Photo by Todd F. Helsler

MURPHY ON REAL ESTATE

Reasons buyers buy property

You have just had the second showing of your home.

The buyers are from out of town and they seemed to take a long time walking through on their second inspection and they were taking notes.

It is your impression that they liked your home and seemed enthusiastic; however, when your agent calls with feedback, you find out they have bought another home.

So what is wrong with yours?

All things being equal, probably nothing.

Assuming that your home has been properly staged, is clean, bright and well priced the chances are good it has nothing to do with a deficiency in the home.

It is more likely it has something to do with a buyer's emotional needs and their perception of your home.

There are always many reasons a buyer prefers one home over another. As people have many different likes and dislikes, one seller could never appeal to every buyer that walks through the door.

Other reasons may be very minor to the seller, but major to the buyer.

If a buyer has had to put up with limited closet space, a home with plenty of storage is what they will be looking for.

If your home is perfect in every way except for closet space, it may not meet the needs of that particular buyer.

Perceptions play a large part in the decision making process for the buyer.

If the buyer perceives your home has a "big" kitchen and desires a generous kitchen area then you might enjoy a sale.

The problem is the word "big." What is a "big" kitchen? Depending on what your buyer had before may determine what big means to that person.

I've watched buyers purchase a home that had almost a smallish kitchen compared to some of our other floor plans, but to them it was spacious.

As a seller, you cannot know all the needs a buyer has.

Sometimes even the buyer is not sure until after previewing a number of different homes and making an evaluation later.

There are some times that buyers have unbelievable reasons for not purchasing a particular home that seems to fill their required needs.

One buyer professed that the master bedroom was on the wrong side of the home, and could not buy that home.

Another buyer said the "karma" wasn't right in a particular home and felt they did not want to buy the house.

One of my favorites was a buyer that was looking at purchasing an $800,000 plus home, and brought their pet "cat" to make the final decision.

Much to the relief of the agent, the cat "liked" the home and a happy buyer moved in.

Most people "buy" on emotion, and use logic and practicality later.

That is one of the main reasons your home should show its very best when offered to the market. Make sure the "mood" is right by having soft music, warm lighting, comfortable temperatures, and immaculate conditions.

These factors will help and not hinder the decision process of a qualified buyer.

Questions or comments may be directed to Terri Murphy, Box 6234, Libertyville, IL 60048.

stores. He says a good bottle of wine begins at a mere $8 to $9. All of the wines come from California.

"So far, no one has disappointed of our wines," Severs said.

Seating in the completely remodeled restaurant is spacious. The dining area accommodates 146 people, with the lounge another 93. Severs went for what he calls a warm, well-appointed casual look. He said people have responded well to the free and easy approach the decor provides. He moves about the restaurant to greet people and estimates he has a 95 to 97 percent satisfaction ratio. Knowing you can't please all of the people all of the time, he is pleased with his high, albeit informal ratings.

"Our objective has been met," he said.

Raffle winner donates

Mount St. Joseph, a not-for-profit intermediate care facility for developmentally disabled women in Lake Zurich, has an extra $500 in its pocket, thanks to the First National Bank of Chicago's Lake Zurich branch.

William Watson, president of First Chicago's Lake Zurich branch and a board member of the American Brain Tumor Assn., purchased $10 in raffle tickets at a ABTA fund-raiser. Watson's intention was to donate one ticket each to 10 area charities in hopes of winning one of three cash prizes, which included a $10,000 grand prize.

Victory staff excels at second annual quality fair

The staff of Victory Memorial Hospital, Waukegan, took the opportunity to share information on key quality improvement projects at the second annual Victory Quality Fair during National Quality Week. The fair drew raves from attendees who came to see what quality teams had accomplished during the last year.

"The fair provided an excellent presentation of the endeavors of Victory's staff and the organization in improving the quality of care. I am most familiar with the cardiology projects. I feel that they demonstrate that Victory continues to be very innovative and aggressive as far as being at the forefront of medical care, especially in Lake County," said Dr. Norman Weinstein, cardiologist.

Organized by the Victory Quality Leadership Team, participation in the fair was open to work teams submitting projects in one of the following categories: patient focused care, improvement of quality service while decreasing cost, and innovative use of resources.

"The quality fair lets staff see what other areas of the hospital are doing and how we're expanding and doing things better. Sometimes we get so wrapped up in what's going on in our own departments, we don't realize the great things that are going on around us. The fair allows us to go beyond our regular scope of things," said Cindy Ball, Victory's Human Resources Dept.

An independent panel of judges evaluated projects based on a set of prescribed criteria; including baseline data collection, evidence that the solution addressed the problem, and an effective plan to measure results.

Exercising after retirement

"Routine exercise helps older adults stay active and maintain a youthful outlook," says Pearl Watts, manager of Victory Adult Day Center. "But it is important that, just like younger people, older adults not overdo. In exercise, moderation is the important concept."

Key to the success of any exercise routine is to find an activity that doesn't become a chore. Several activities, like walking and swimming, can be done in a group. The encouragement and friendship of others can help out when a person's resolve to exercise slips.

"Before anyone begins an exercise program," says Paul Junkert, exercise physiologist at Victory, "they should see their doctor. Together they can decide how often to exercise and how strenuous that exercise should be. The doctor can also explain how to monitor heart rate."

When starting a new exercise program, begin slowly. Gradually increase the intensity of the workout. Remember that warm-up sessions and careful stretching after exercise will reduce the chance of soreness or injury.

"When an older adult participates in routine exercise, they often notice an improvement in their physical well being. Fitness levels improve, and they are able to enjoy a wider range of activities," says Junkert.

Hospice program is about living

"With this ring, I thee wed..." Vows exchanged by Maggie Aman and Arne Kelsey at their home on Oct. 17 were particularly poignant. Aman has a life-limiting disease and is a patient of Hospice of the North Shore. The adverse effects of her disease are apparent. Though her strength has waned and she no longer is as self-reliant as she'd like to be, her one clear goal has been to be strong enough to get married.

Aman and Kelsey had already purchased their house in Wheeling several months prior so they could have the wedding ceremony at home. They had known each other for seven years, having met in the former Rickets in Wheeling, and had been planning to get married for four of those years. Somehow they just never got around to it...until October. When asked how it compares with other celebrations in her life, she quietly said, "Nothing is more meaningful; it's the piece de resistance."

The newlyweds were surrounded by family and friends who not only were guests but had banded together to make the event happen: The friend who went shopping with Aman for her dress; the family members who were chefs for the day; the friends who helped decorate; and even their golden retriever Zak, who behaved that day without reproach. The atmosphere was a compatible combination of joy and sadness—joy in celebration of Aman and Kelsey, and sadness for the loss everyone was soon to experience.

In and out of treatment for four years after her initial diagnosis, Aman sought the assistance of Hospice of the North Shore in September upon the advice of her physician, Gershon Locher, M.D., oncology specialist at the Kellogg Cancer Care Center of Evanston Hospital. Aman's hospice nurse, Rosie Pagliano, visits her regularly to be certain that she is not in pain and to relieve other symptoms of her disease so that she can continue with as normal a life as possible.

Maggie Kelsey is an example of what Hospice of the North Shore maintains—that hospice can help a dying patient live, really live, until the moment of death. Maggie, with the support of her husband, family and friends, is determined to live life to its fullest in the time she has left and to let nothing get in her way.

Libertyville doctor volunteers in Panama

Daniel Ritacca, M.D., was one of four U.S. eye surgeons who performed free surgeries in the town of Chitre in Panama under a program called "Healing the Children." The surgical team worked with the Rotary of Panama to perform 150 surgeries during 4 1/2 days in early October. Healing the Children also sponsors trips to Kenya, San Salvador and the Dominican Republic.

Dr. Ritacca is a Libertyville-based ophthalmologist who specializes in refractive and eyelid surgery. He is an associate of Walter I. Fried, Ph.D., M.D., a cataract and refractive surgeon in Gurnee. Ritacca was asked by a colleague from New York to join the team, and was the only surgeon from the Midwest.

The Healing the Children team consisted of four surgeons, four anesthesiologists, 10 nurses and two administrators. Ritacca performed ptosis (eyelid) and strabismus (to correct crossed eyes) surgery.

"Volunteers paid for their own plane trips to Panama; but we had lodging provided while we were there. We performed surgery in a small clinic where obstetric procedures were normally performed and kept two operating rooms going for 4 1/2 days," said Ritacca.

At the end of their stay, they were honored with a Mass and party.

Ritacca said conditions in the operating rooms were primitive compared to U.S. facilities, but that patients and their families appreciated the effort.

Dr. Daniel Ritacca plays with a young Panamanian ptosis patient. Ritacca, a Libertyville-based ophthalmologist, was volunteering in Panama as part of a 'Healing the Children' program.

Myths and facts about alcohol and driving

Myths and misconceptions about alcohol and its effects on safe driving are widespread. Knowing the truth may mean the difference between life and death this holiday season and throughout the year.

In observance of the 1994 National Drunk and Drugged Driving (3D) Prevention Month in December, the following myths and facts are presented:

Myth: "Alcohol is a stimulant"

Fact: Alcohol is a depressant. It acts on the central nervous system like an anesthetic to lower or depress the activity of your brain.

Myth: "Drinking coffee sobers me up."

Fact: Coffee cannot rid your system of alcohol. It just makes you a nervous, wide-awake drunk. Only time reverses impairment.

Myth: "I always stay away from the hard stuff."

Fact: Alcohol is alcohol. Beer has the same effect as straight scotch. One 12-ounce beer has as much alcohol as a 1.5-ounce shot of whiskey or 1.5-ounce glass of wine.

Myth: "I'm bigger so I can handle my liquor better."

Fact: Size is only one factor in how much you can drink. Metabolism, amount of rest, and food intake all play a part in how you handle liquor. Impairment in motor reflexes and judgment can begin with the first drink.

Myth: "Once I roll down the car window, I'm okay."

Myth: "I just drive slower."

Fact: Many people do, believing they can actually compensate for being impaired by creeping along at 22 mph. This can be very dangerous. Others race along at 75 mph. The truth is, impaired drivers are unsafe at any speed.

Myth: "All I have to do is splash my face with cold water."

Fact: Splash all you like. You can even take a cold shower. It may make you cleaner, but it won't sober you up or make you a safe driver.

Myth: "A drink or two makes me a better driver."

Fact: Even one drink can cloud your thinking, dim your vision and slow your reflexes. Small amounts of alcohol can impair your judgment and put you and others on the road at risk of death or disabling injury.

LIFE IN THIS DAY AND AGE CAN BE HECTIC

By trying to accomplish a lot in a short period of time, we sometimes rush right through important events and lose their meaning. One important event that deserves extra time and attention is the death of a loved one. Death is a major transition which creates stress. Death means that one's relationship with a person has ended. When someone close to us dies it is helpful to take the time to mark this event in the company of friends. A meaningful funeral and visitation is an appropriate way to do that. After the funeral we need to take time to begin putting our affairs in order and assess what life without the deceased will mean. Taking time to express feelings, to talk with others who care, and to make good plans for the future are some ways to help ourselves after a death.

When you must...call.

How To Survive The Job Search
By Nancy Sakol
G: Dear...Search: I have been out seeking employment since graduation which was in June. I have a degree in business and have been going to school for what seems to be forever. I took some time off over the summer to kind of unwind. I felt I earned it. In September I started avidly looking for a job with an interview here and there but unfortunately no luck. Now as the holidays are approaching, my folks are on my back that I should be searching harder than I am. I have tried to tell them that nobody is going to hire anyone this close to the holidays. Will you please confirm this?
W.G. - Antioch.
A: Dear W.G. Sorry I can't help you out there. Certainly it is expected that as the holidays approach, the hiring that companies do may slow down. It does not stop, however. Many companies at this time are seeking temporaries to come in and fill in where needed for year-end data that needs to be compiled, analysis that needs to be done, information in general that needs to get out. I will tell you that with the holidays upon you, there are less people taking the time to search for a job because they are thinking along the same lines as you. Actually, now is your best time to be out there looking. So many companies look to hire on at the end of the year with the knowledge that new hires will come on board after the first of the year. Don't put off until tomorrow what everyone else may be putting off, too. Opportunity knocks even during the holiday season.
G: Dear...Search: I have a question regarding after-interview protocol. How often should a person contact the employer after having interviewed with them? In particular, I interviewed with a company two weeks ago and was supposed to hear from them within three weeks from that time. I sent a thank you note to the interviewer and have followed up with two telephone calls. I was not put through on either one of them. Is there a point in time where I may hurt my chances by appearing too aggressive? R.K. - Gurnee.
A: Dear R.K. Thank you notes are a definite must!! It shows professionalism, respect and appreciation. A telephone call to the interviewer even after the note is sent can be beneficial. ### YACHATS

The two-story Yachats has an excellent floor plan that is open to your individual interpretation. The rear section of the lower level can be fitted with a sink and lavatory, creating a small private apartment for an older child trying to cut expenses while attending school or an aging parent who desires privacy, but within the family environment. If you don't need this space in a developed form, it will serve as a handy storage area. More room is available for storage underneath the staircase and outside the rear of the garage.

Plenty of windows look out from three sides of this house, affording a complete view of the surrounding terrain. The beautiful wood exterior will blend in well on a lot with trees and a scenic atmosphere.

The covered stairway takes you into the skylit entry of the second level. Store your gear in the coat closet and proceed to the vaulted living room/dining room area. A great room effect is created here with a centrally located woodstove, backed by a built-in hutch, providing the only division of these rooms.

A complete kitchen, with all the built-in appliances, will please the cook in the family. Other kitchen features include a walk-in pantry, eating bar and large garden window.

The rear of the main floor is taken up by the spacious master suite. Amenities here are a huge sleeping area, linen storage, twin basins, shower and long closet with double sliding doors. On opposite sides of the skylit hallway, are a small utility room for your washer and dryer and a full bathroom with skylight and tub.

Concluding the main floor plan is a small second bedroom that could function as a home office, sewing room or exercise area.

For a study kit of the YACHATS (402-20), send $9.00, to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307-LP60, Eugene, OR 97402 (Be sure to specify plan name & number). For a collection of plan books featuring Landmark's most popular home plans, send $20 to Landmark.

Christmas Tree Directory

Americans celebrate holiday with real Christmas trees

A multicultural tradition—This year over 36 million American families will celebrate the holidays with the fragrance and beauty of a real Christmas tree.

The tree, used as a symbol of life, is a tradition older than Christianity and not exclusive to any one religion. It's a part of our holiday customs that engages not only our senses of sight, touch and smell, but also our sense of tradition, hope and good will.

Long before there was a Christmas, Egyptians brought green palm branches into their homes on the shortest day of the year in December as a symbol of life's triumph over death.

Romans adorned their homes with evergreens during Saturnalia, a winter festival in honor of Saturnus, their god of agriculture. Druid priests decorated oak trees with golden apples for their winter solstice festivities.

In the middle ages, the Paradise tree, an evergreen hung with red apples, was the symbol of the feast of Adam and Eve held on Dec. 24.

The Christmas tree in Germany, Europe and the United States—The first recorded reference to the Christmas tree dates back to the 16th century. In Strasbourg, Germany, families both rich and poor decorated fir trees with colored paper, fruits and sweets. The retail Christmas tree lot also dates back that far—in those times, older women would sell trees harvested from nearby forests in the marketplace.

The tradition spread through Europe and was brought to the United States by German settlers and by Hessian mercenaries paid to fight in the Revolutionary War. In 1804 U.S. soldiers stationed at Fort Dearborn (now Chicago) hauled trees from surrounding woods to their barracks at Christmas.

The popularity of the Christmas tree then proliferated. Charles Minnegrove introduced the custom of decorating trees in Williamsburg, Virg. in 1842. In 1851, Mark Carr hauled two ox sleds loaded with trees from the Catskills to the streets of New York and opened the first retail lot in the United States.

The White House Christmas tree—Franklin Pierce, our 14th President, brought the Christmas tree tradition to the White House. In 1923, President Calvin Coolidge started the National Christmas Tree Lighting Ceremony now led every year on the White House lawn.

Since 1966, members of the National Christmas Tree Assn. have presented a beautiful, fresh Christmas tree to the President and First Family. This tree is displayed each year in the Blue Room of the White House.

LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS' 36TH ANNUAL GIFT SPOTTER

Happiness All Over the World

In Czechoslovakia, Christmas dinner is fish. And the scales of the fish are put on a dish.

Into everyone's wallet the fish scales will go. They might bring good luck and make money grow!

The Snowflake

Before I melt
Come, look at me!
This lovely, icy filligree!
Of a great forest
In one night
I make a wilderness
Of white:
By skyey cold
Of crystals made,
All softly on
Your fingers laid,
I pause, that you
My beauty see:
Breathe, and I vanish Instantly.

—Walter de la Mare

The children bring straw and wheat to the table
To remind them that Jesus was born in a stable.

Each window in Denmark is aglow with a flame.
As Christmas Eve candles speak friendship's name:

"All strangers are welcome in this home tonight.
Come out of the darkness and into the light."

Dutch children are busy hunting for toys.
Poems contain clues for both girls and boys.

Karl sees a cake hidden under a chair.
He cuts the cake open and finds a gift there!

To France she flies next on her Christmas Eve search

They call this grand party the "Réveillon."

And Père Noel fills them when sleepy eyes fire.

The children of England their stockings have hung,
Games they have played, carols they have sung.

For a very special

ANTIQUES & CRAFTS

NICASA to host 'Pictures With Santa'

The Women and Children's program of the Northern Council on Alcoholism and Substance Abuse (NICASA) is celebrating the holidays with "Pictures With Santa" on Saturday, Dec. 10, from 2 to 5 p.m. Chaired by Marsha Christoffel, and sponsored by Manpower Temporary Services, this free event includes games, refreshments and, of course, pictures with Santa Claus. During this holiday season the Council hopes to raise awareness of their presence in the community through fundraising and volunteerism. This can be an especially difficult time of the year to facilitate the treatment of individuals and groups overcome by the destructive power of addictive substances. The NICASA Center is located at 2031 Dugdale in North Chicago.

Gingerbread toy store at Condell

Lake Co.'s largest gingerbread toy store takes center stage at Condell Medical Center in Libertyville. This toy store is four feet wide, five feet long and five feet high. It features actual display windows filled with all kinds of appealing merchandise. John Edgell, a food service manager, has been doing the gingerbread creations at Condell since 1989.

Holiday open house Dec. 18

Rev. David and Mrs. Christy Newhouse will hold a holiday open house Sunday, Dec. 18, from 2 to 6 p.m. The large colonial home has been in phases of construction for over two years. Everyone in the community who is curious about the home and its design are welcome to visit. Included will be a special recognition for Anne Utterback, who served a role with the ministry team of the new Gurnee United Methodist congregation, The Living Well.

Cuneo Museum hosts 'Festival of Lights'

Imagine a gentle snow falling and strolling through the grand Cuneo grounds in central Lake County where the luminous sparkle of Christmas lights creates a winter wonderland.

That's what the Village of Vernon Hills and the Cuneo Museum and Gardens have in store for holiday visitors in what has been billed the first "Festival of Lights" extravaganza in Lake County.

Literally thousands upon thousands of Christmas lights dot the grounds and feature illuminated displays and scenes that people of all ages will recognize as familiar Christmas themes. Toy soldiers, Dickens skaters, ginger bread houses, and, of course, Santa Claus will be some of the featured figures and scenes.

Through the first week of January, Vernon Hills and the Cuneo

Foundation will open the drive-through illuminated Christmas theme park. The park will be closed, however, on eight of those days because of prior bookings at the Cuneo Museum.

Drive-through hours will be from 5 to 10 p.m. on weekdays and from 5 to 11 p.m. on weekends. Weekday costs are $5 per carload and $7 on weekends.

Sinnokrak makes an impact for Lady Lancers

College of Lake County women's basketball team welcomed one new player but two more suffered injuries last week.

Lisa Sinnokrak, a freshman and Warren High grad, had an immediate impact. She scored 13 points, had 9 rebounds and 4 assists in a 68-44 loss to Rock Valley Saturday.

"She is going to be a big help for us. She can rebound and like all Warren players, she is fundamentally sound," Coach Don Zeman said.

Kim Rowe had 8 rebounds to help Sinnokrak in that category.

She had 2 points and 3 assists. "We need help on the boards, and that is her strength," Zeman commented.

The Lancers were without the services of soph guard Amy Scharlu. She injured a knee ligament when she went crashing to the floor in a loss to Joliet. "That could be a season-ending injury," Zeman said.

Nicole Pollard missed the trip to Rock Valley, nursing a possible eye injury. It was hoped she would be back for this week's games against College of DuPage and a home clash at 5 p.m. against Harper Dec. 8.

The 1-6 Lancers fell 64-49 to Joliet. Scharlu had 13 points before the early second-half injury, Pollard 14. CLC hopes to get Mandy Jacobsen back into the lineup this week after battling an illness.

CLC fell to Moraine Valley 69-48. "That was our poorest game of the week," Zeman said.

Pollard scored 16 points before being struck in an eye in a rebound clash.

CLC is at Lake Forest College to battle the junior varsity at 1 p.m. Dec. 10.

Carmel offense needs spark

A furious second-half comeback was not enough as Carmel High's girls basketball team dropped its fourth game in six outings at Zion-Benton Saturday.

Carmel fell 38-35 after scoring just 6 first-half points.

"Scoring points has been a problem for us," Coach Larry Whittier said. "The first half was just terrible."

Erin Potempa had 18 points and Colleen Krombach had 12. The rest of the team was held to 5 points.

Zion standout Julie Gyskiewicz had 14 points.

Carmel outscored Zion 15-10 in the third quarter and 14-11 in the final stanza.

Carmel faced unbeaten Warren Dec. 7 before taking on Conant in a non-conference game at Hoffman Estates Dec. 10. Game time is 2:30 p.m.

The defense had its best effort to date, but the second win is still elusive for College of Lake County's Lady Lancers. CLC fell to College of DuPage 56-40 in non-conference women's basketball play Tuesday, their seventh loss in eight games.

"Mandy Jacobsen returned to the lineup after an illness and scored 7 points. 'We are running a lot more plays offensively,'" Zeman said.

Ex-Lancers take bow, recall highlights at CLC

When Joe Walls was a basketball player at North Chicago High School, he found success with his team's half-court offense.

"We did a lot with the patient offense. At College of Lake County, it was more of an up-tempo offense," Walls said.

Walls still holds some CLC records as he averaged 30 points a game. He went on to play at University of Wisconsin-Whitewater and coached the last two years at his alma mater, North Chicago High.

He is one of some 50 former CLC athletes honored as part of the school's new Wall-of-Fame. Grads returned to receive plaques at halftime of the Dec. 8 men's basketball game with Harper.

Also honored at the College of Lake County Wall-of-Fame ceremony was former women's basketball, wrestling, tennis, golf, cross country, baseball, volleyball, softball, and soccer players.

For wrestling: Jim Welter, John Welter, Joe Belcher, Wilbur Borrero, Jerry Chapman and Tom Murrey.

For women's basketball: Caryn Alexander, who led the Lancers to a conference title and went on to play at Northern Illinois University; Mary Metcalf of Gurnee, Jennifer Munda of Waukegan and Delys Brooks of Waukegan.

She was not only one of the tallest players at 6-foot, 2-inches but she wanted to be the best," Coach Don Zeman said.

She scored 1,000 points and had 600 rebounds in her two CLC seasons. "She was the best player I have coached in 20 years. Two things stand out: her ability to do everything on the floor. She would dive for all loose balls and she had a great attitude and was a hard worker."

Also recognized include:

For cross country: Kim Johnson of Zion, Kim Dahm of Mundelein, George Kapheim of Waukegan and Shelly Hazel of Waukegan.

For volleyball: Laura Fillipp of Lake Zurich, Karrie Showalter of Burlington, Wis.; and Connie Hendrickson of Round Lake Park.

For men's tennis: Fred Acosta of Waukegan and Richard Sitz of Winthrop Harbor.

For golf: John Cyboran of Gurnee; Del Gorski of Lake Villa and Bruce Johnson of Deerfield.

For men's soccer: Tom Holevas of Libertyville; Jamie Cervantes of Highwood; Omar Pacheco of Waukegan; Jim Dionne of Waukegan and Joe Carver of Deerfield.

For baseball: Herb Blackburn, Joe May, Mike Gertz, Dan Miller, John Dehaan, Dave Zitkus, Ed Sedar, Ray Salinas, Mark Ledinski, Kurt Bruksch.

For softball: Jill Tegtmeier, Kathleen Quilty, Kelly Damron and Sheryl Panek.

Coleman paces NIU hopes as Huskies enjoy fast start

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

Stevenson High graduate Chris Coleman is playing a major role for Northern Illinois University's fortunes.

Coleman scored 20 points and came up with several key plays as NIU shocked Wichita State 79-77.

Chris Coleman drives in for two more points. Coleman, a Stevenson High grad, has helped NIU to a 4-0 start. He scored 14 points as NIU downed Tennessee Tech 85-74.

Coleman attended Southern Florida University before sitting out last year at NIU.

Coleman had a workmanlike game as Chicago State proved to be no match for NIU. The Huskies romped 94-66. Coleman had 7 points and 5 assists and 3 steals in 20 minutes.

"We enjoy running this offense. It is a lot like high school - it is not geared to one person," Coleman said.

The Huskies use a three-guard offense which is running at peak efficiency, giving the team its best start in 20 years.

"Chris just does so much for us. He is an impact player and when he is not in the game, he is the other players' No. 1 cheerleader," Coach Brian Hammel said.

Coleman possesses an important quality, which has allowed him to break into the starting lineup as a sophomore.

He made his presence felt early, with an assist on NIU's game-tying basket.

"He has what all great players have - arrogance, but arrogance in a positive sense. He has an aggressiveness about him," Hammel said.

That showed in the Wichita State game more than the game against the non-conference Cougars.

The Huskies (3-0) had an 8-point lead early in the second half, only to see the Shockers turn that to a 6-point advantage with five minutes left.

NIU won the game as Herbert Register blocked a Shockers shot with 1.2 seconds left.

Coleman was 8-for-17 from the field, 2-of-7 in three-pointers and 2-of-5 from the three-point line. He added 5 rebounds in 32 minutes.

Against Rockford in the season opener, he had 9-of-16 from the field, 4-of-7 in three pointers for 22 points. He had 9 rebounds.

Coleman also set an NIU record with 6 steals. Nine players had five steals.

Coleman's accolades are many. He scored 1,617 points at Stevenson, had 912 rebounds as he led the Patriots to the Elite Eight his senior year. His point total ranks him among the top 30 in Lake County scoring over the past 20 years.

He played his freshman season at South Florida, averaging 9 points a game. He is the Mid-Continent Conference Newcomer of the Year.

Starlets skating team to compete internationally

"The Starlets," a Barrington Area Figure Skating Club precision skating team, has been chosen to perform at The Snowflake International Precision Figure Skating Competition Jan. 5 to 7 in Dearborn, Mich. Precision skating teams from over 17 countries will compete in The Snowflake competition. The Starlets were one of only four teams chosen to represent the United States at last year's United States Figure Skating Assn. (USFSA) National Championships in Providence, R.I.

This is the first time that the Starlets have been chosen to represent the U.S.A. for an international competition. The Starlets are representing the Wagon Wheel Figure Skating Club for the USFSA and will be competing in the Junior Division. They will perform two programs, a short or technical program of less than 2 1/2 minutes to a modern version of "The Firebird."

The long program will be skated to the music of the "The Gayne Ballet." The short program accounts for one-third of the total score and the long program is counted as two-thirds.

To prepare for the competition, the team will perform an exhibition of their technical and long programs at the annual Wagon Wheel Figure Skating Club exhibition on Dec. 11 from 10:30 a.m. to noon at the Northbrook Arena on Pfingsten Road. The event is free to the public.

The team will also be competing in the Midwestern Precision Figure Skating Championships at the UIC Pavilion in Chicago Feb. 23 to 26 and is hoping to again qualify for the USFSA Nationals in San Diego, Calif. April 5 to 9.

Team Coach Beth Sisofo of Cary said that she has been coaching The Starlets for over 15 years and is honored to represent the United States in this prestigious competition. "I am very excited to be a part of this competition and I feel that the team will be very strong," she said.

She added that the skaters have been practicing since last June to prepare for this event and are looking forward to the international experience. Team assistant coach is Judy Schag.

There are 24 members of The Starlets, including: Kristen Black, Christina Di Lorenzo, Jennifer Johnson, Jennifer Malone, Alison Martinez, Meredith O'Boyle, Amy Rotfield, Tami Saltouros, Beth Sloan, Kristin Winkiel and Megan Young of Barrington; Michelle Barrett of Algonquin; Regan Behn of Franklin Park; Kelly Dobner of McHenry; Becky and Bethany Haag of Marengo; Dehnel Kluzak, Megan Kosman and Heather Paige of Lake Zurich; Jenny Lee of Arlington Heights; Jamie Martino of Melrose Park; Maria Nkyha of Addison; Nicole Pierini of Hawthorn Woods; and Sara Syms of Wheaton.

Precision team skating is scheduled to be featured in the 1998 Winter Olympic games. It involves eight or more figure skaters who perform various forms and maneuvers to music.

Coleman

All did not go according to plan in the early going for Coleman and his NIU teammates.

Hammel called a time-out and preached focus with 12:18 left in the first half and NIU ahead 12-7 against Chicago State (0-3).

The Huskies took charge, building up a 35-19 lead capped by two three-pointers from Marlin Simms (16 points). NIU led 47-23 at half-time with Coleman getting into the scoring column on a 15-footer and a driving lay-up.

Jamal Robinson led the Huskies with 19 points and 12 rebounds. Vaurice Patterson came off the bench for 11 points in just 12 minutes.

Defensively, NIU forced ex-Bull Craig Hodges' team into 25 turnovers, 17 in the first half.

"I told the team, if we do that against my son's team, we would be in trouble," Hodges said.

The Huskies have three more home games before Christmas so fans may see the two-time Lakeland Newspapers MVP. Some 1,728 were in attendance, with an eye to the Bears-Vikings football game to watch the Chicago State game.

"We are trying to make it into more of an event," Coleman, of Buffalo Grove, said.

University of Maine visits Dec. 17, Air Force Dec. 21, Morehead State Dec. 23. All start times are 7:05 p.m., except for the Maine contest, at 6:05 p.m.

"We are building to the conference season," Coleman said.

Brunswick Memorial aids Special Olympics

Special Olympics Chicago, a program that provides sports training and athletic competition for developmentally disabled children and adults, received $26,000 from the Brunswick Foundation as the result of a $15 per pin pledge during the nationally televised finals of the 1994 Brunswick Memorial World Open.

Since 1988, Brunswick has designated a local charity to receive the annual per-pin pledge. Brunswick donates $15 per pin, based on the total combined scores of the four televised games. Pinfall from the four games bowled during the finals of the 1994 World Open was 1,724, for a total donation of $26,000. During the past six years, Brunswick has donated over $175,000 to Chicago area charities.

CLC falls to juco powers, aim to regain .500 mark

College of Lake County's men's basketball team ran into two teams who figure to go far in junior college post-season action.

The Lancers fell to Moraine Valley 81-68 and Rock Valley 67-56 to drop below .500, 4-5 overall. "Both teams had lost one game each," CLC Coach Bruce Smith said.

Against Rock Valley, the Lancers fell despite being in contention late in the second half.

"They were ahead by 5 points with three to four minutes left. They hit a 35-foot three-pointer and went ahead by 8 and then we had to foul," Smith said.

CLC looked to gain some revenge as it hosted Harper Dec. 8. "We should have beaten them at their tourney," Smith said.

Harper features Mundelein

grad Gerald Coleman.

"We are still getting to know each other," Smith said. "We have some players coming off the bench and playing well."

Kelan Williams is one of those playing the role of key substitute.

Sophomore Manuel Stutts led the attack against Rock Valley with 11 points. Kelan and Sophomore Ramsey Williams had 8 each, followed by freshman Kurt Filiatreault and soph Robert Kindle with 7. CLC trailed 40-31 at halftime.

Stutts had 16 points and Ramsey Williams 12 in the loss to Moraine Valley.

CLC is at Kankakee to battle two foes Dec. 9 and 10. Kennedy-King will be the opponent at 6 p.m. Dec. 9. The home team challenges CLC at 8 p.m. Dec. 10.

Bongratz, Williams assist Lake Forest College hopes

The battle of unusual rulings went against Lake Forest College's mens basketball team at St. Norbert College and ultimately, a chance to upset the league powers.

LFC fell 64-53 in a College Conference of Illinois and Wisconsin (CCIW) game in DePere, Wis.

The Foresters had taken momentum with a 10-2 run in the second half. With eight minutes left, there was a loose ball and Jermaine Williams made a long three-pointer. But there was a dispute over whether or not the shotclock should be reset or not and the Foresters were never the same.

"The referee took 15 minutes to watch a tape of the play. Our guys were going crazy. It killed our momentum," LFC Coach Ed Timm said. "The rule states an official can look at videotape in the case of a fight or last-second shot," Timm said.

The loss dropped the Foresters to 2-2 overall before two contests prior to a post-Christmas San Diego trip. LFC hosted Aurora Dec. 7 and will battle Kalamazoo Dec. 13 at 7 p.m.

Ben Bongratz was a strong force for Lake Forest. The Warren Township High School grad burned the Green Knights nets for 7-of-8 shooting for 14 points. Mike Ansani had 12 points and 4 assists.

Williams, a Carmel graduate, was held to 10 points. "Teams are beginning to take things away from him so there are no easy shots," Timm said.

More structure in the motion offense is something Timm is stressing these days.

The pre-California trip contests were expected to be difficult ones. "They are both good teams," Timm commented.

Williams paced the Foresters with 32 points with 7 three-pointers and Bongratz had 12 points in an 89-82 win over Loras. Williams' shooting allowed Lake Forest to overcome a 54-point second half.

The Lake Forest subs, which include Richmond-Burton grad Jeff Toler, are playing well, the coach said. Tom Herbeck has played well of late.

Carmel Gymnasts focus on invite meets

There were plenty of highlights for area teams at the Rolling Meadows Invitational, paced by champion Stevenson.

The Pats had 68.7 points. Carmel was eighth with 63.4 and Mundelein 18th with 57.2 points.

"It was a good meet for the whole team. We had some kids come up from the junior varsity and it was a nice team showing," Carmel Coach Norb Bendixen said.

Carmel was led by Gina Zubert's first place in the vault with 9.5. "She stuck it. She is doing fine on all four events, but her strongest is vault," the coach said.

Jenny Rudolf returned to the lineup after a soccer injury.

Winning Stevenson was led by a first from Stephanie Kaufman on the uneven bars. Ellen Sobel was second in the balance beam.

In upcoming meets, Carmel is off until it battles at New Trier Dec. 17. "Our goal at New Trier will be to implement some new skills," Bendixen said.

Mundelein is at Hersey Dec. 10 while Stevenson is at Conant. Libertyville is at Glenbrook North's invite.

CHS seeks elusive first victory Wilmot opens

Carmel High's fourth-quarter comeback forced overtime, but the Corsairs are still finding tough sledding in the early season.

The Corsairs fell to St. Catherine's of Kenosha 64-59 for their fourth straight loss.

Eric Ames led the Carmel effort with 19 points and Mike Graham had 16. It was Graham who tried a last-second shot after St. Catherine's took the lead with less than 12 seconds left. Dan Graham contributed 14 for Carmel.

St. Catherine's had a 21-11 lead after one quarter, 35-23 at halftime.

Carmel opens East Suburban Catholic Conference play Dec. 9 when it hosts St. Viator at 7:30 p.m. The Lions lost their league opener, 59-56 to St. Patrick. First-week winners in the ESCC were: Benet Academy (4-1 overall); Marist (4-1 overall) and Notre Dame (4-1 overall).

The onset of winterlike weather has the staff at Wilmot Mountain making last-minute preparations for the onset of the 1994-95 ski season.

By mid-December, all of Wilmot's 25 ski runs should be open.

Wilmot Mountain Ski Area is located at the Illinois-Wisconsin state line, between Antioch and Richmond, off Hwy. 173. For an up-to-the minute snow report, skiers can call the resort's 24-hour hotline at (312)736-0787.
